ELDERMAN—Yes, this is the stove you inquired for. As you say, it does not look exactly like the one your mother recommended you to buy, and which she, thinks so much of, but it is a Charter Oak Range. We have the Cook Stoves of the same make but the Ranges are very much nicer now as they are more convenient. How long has your mother had her stove?

YOUNG MARRIED LADY—Oh! ever so long. She bought it when I was a baby, and has been using it ever since and she told me I must get the same kind.

ELDERMAN—Well this is the same kind. That is, it is a Charter Oak, but you must remember that twenty years is a long time, and improvements have been made since your mother got hers. This Range has the wonderful Wire Gauze Oven Door, which you have probably heard of, as it is known and sold everywhere in connection with our Stoves and Ranges.

YOUNG MARRIED LADY—Oh! I remember now. She spoke about that, but I can't understand why that should make it so much better than our old stove as that was as good as it could be.

ELDERMAN—There is no doubt about its being much better, it is a wonderful improvement. It bakes everything so much nicer, and the meats are not dried up like they are in the old fashioned tight ovens. Why, a steak can be broiled in that oven as perfectly as over a charcoal fire, and the natural juices of the meat, which make it so appetizing, will all be retained. It is the same with roast meats. Of course it is necessary for me to speak of its other good qualities, as your mother's advice has made that unnecessary.

YOUNG MARRIED LADY—Well, of course, I will take it. Please have it put up as soon as you can, as we have no stove yet. We are just commencing housekeeping, you know.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a colored woman who had a malignant form of cancer on her foot. The cancer grew worse under the prescribed treatment, and the toes and one side of the foot were at length entirely eaten away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific a most excellent medicine for blood diseases, as it is potency is to drive out the poison.

STRUCK IN THE DARK.

Steamer Evangel Hits the Skagit Chief, Near Seattle.

FANIC AMONG THE PASSENGERS

Gambler Kills Himself in Seattle When Discarded by a Prostitute.

HIS FATHER A RICH VICTORIAN

Young Baltimarsh, Who Shot His Wife and Himself at Albany, is Dead—Skeleton of a Young Woman Discovered.

SEATTLE, Feb 20.—[Special Telegram.]—The steamers Skagit Chief and Evangel collided this morning at 4 o'clock at Five Mile point. The Skagit Chief was en route from Whatcom to Seattle, and the Evangel was on the way from Seattle to Port Townsend. The pilot of the Skagit Chief saw the Evangel in the distance and whistled twice. The Evangel answered this signal with two blasts. Then the Evangel ran up directly in front of the Skagit Chief's bow. The pilot of the Skagit Chief whistled again once, and when the Evangel was close at hand she answered. As it was impossible to avoid a collision, and the Evangel was coming head on the Skagit's pilot swung his vessel out to the right so as to receive a glancing blow. If a full blow was struck both steamers would have been sunk.

The result was that the Evangel struck the Skagit Chief on the port side near the bow and scraped her clear to the stern. The upper works were torn and smashed the entire length of the vessel and it is marvelous that several persons were not killed.

The shock of the collision, followed by the grinding and scraping noise greatly frightened the 125 passengers on board the Skagit Chief, and a scene of wild confusion ensued. It was a regular panic for a few minutes. Life preservers were hastily donned, and many persons would have jumped overboard had they not been restrained by the officers. Women prayed and men shouted, and the scene will long be remembered by the participants. The officers finally prevailed upon most of the half-dressed passengers to return to their staterooms, and quiet was restored. It was found that the only one hurt was a deck hand. He was asleep with his head on a box between decks, and was cut some about the head by flying splinters torn from the vessel's side. The well was sounded and it was discovered that the Skagit Chief was not leaking and the vessel resumed her run toward Seattle and safely landed her passengers.

The extent of the injuries to the Evangel are unknown as she steamed away without waiting to learn to what extent the steamer she had run into was damaged. The captain of the Skagit Chief requested the captain of the Evangel to follow a short distance, in order to see that the vessel did not sink and save the lives of the passengers in case such a calamity did occur, but no heed was paid to the request. Passengers on board the Skagit Chief say that the fault was entirely due to the pilot of the Evangel that there was plenty of room so much that the shore could be plainly seen, and that had he obeyed the signal and kept to the right there would have been no collision. The collision will be officially inquired into by Supervising Inspectors Steamboat Inspectors Bulger and Budkins at an early date.

DISCARDED BY A PROSTITUTE.

A Worthless Young Man of Good Birth Kills Himself in Seattle.

SEATTLE, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—John Anderson, a young man well connected at Victoria, shot himself with suicidal intent this morning at the Arcade house, and died this evening at 5 o'clock. The case is an exceedingly sad one. Young Anderson was the son of the proprietor of the Clarence hotel, at Victoria. Some time ago the young man became infatuated with a disreputable young woman whose first name is Eliza, but who has traveled under so many aliases as to completely hide her identity. The old gentleman became so enraged at the young man's persistency in allowing himself to be seen in public places with the woman that he disinherited his son, which so enraged the young man that he drew a pistol and fired two shots at his father before the weapon could be taken from him. Anderson was arrested, but his father agreed not to appear against him, providing he would leave the city.

This he did and came to Seattle, bringing the woman with him. The woman took up her residence in a disreputable house kept by Lou Graham, and Anderson went to gambling. Two days ago they had a misunderstanding, and the girl started to tell the police anything to do with him. Enraged at this, Anderson went to the basement of the house, where Anderson and the woman met. He tried to persuade her to talk, but she would have nothing to do with him and at last, goaded to desperation, the young man rushed from the apartment to his room, and drawing a pistol shot himself in the right side. Anderson's parents were notified of his death.

THE TIDE LANDS BILL.

Eastern Washington Opposed to the Measure Now Pending at Olympia.

SPOKANE FALLS, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—Great interest has been aroused in this city over the proposition now before the Washington legislature to sell the tide lands. The following call is being circulated among the business men for signatures:

"In view of the overshadowing importance of proposed legislation on the subject of tide lands and of the imminent danger that this valuable property of the state will soon pass into the hands of speculators and land grabbers for a mere pittance compared to its real value, the undersigned citizens of Spokane Falls, irrespective of party, invite all good citizens to meet at the new State opera house at 8 o'clock Saturday evening for the purpose of taking action to prevent passage of the bill now pending before the legislature at Olympia. The meeting will be addressed by Judge R. B. Blake, Attorney-General Jones, Judge George Turner, James H. Jones, Thomas C. Griffith, and others."

The sentiment in Eastern Washington is unanimously in opposition to the bill reported by the tide lands committee.

The remains are undoubtedly those of Miss Eva Burbank, a beautiful popular and accomplished young lady who was drowned in the surf several years ago.

BRITISH COLUMBIA NEWS.

The Victoria Brewing—Live Stock Dying on the Nicola Ranges.

VICTORIA, Feb 20.—A coroner's inquest was held this morning on the bodies of Edward and James Alexander, drowned while skating Wednesday night. The bodies were found by means of drags, at the bottom of the pond, in eight feet of water, with skates still on feet, close to each other. A few minutes after being exposed to the air the clothes on both men were frozen stiff, and the bodies remained in this condition till after the inquest. The jury returned a verdict of drowned by breaking through the ice while skating.

News has been received that the recent weather in Nicola, B. C., will have serious results for stockraisers in that region. The destruction of feed by grasshoppers last season was a serious blow, but with two and a half feet snow frozen hard by the intense cold the chances are ten to one that cattle and horses will die by thousands on the range. There is no feed in the lower Nicola region, not even enough for horses. Should the weather continue there is little to hope, for the cattle are already too poor to stand the continued severity of the weather. Horses have been found frozen still standing in the snow on the hills. It is difficult at present to estimate what the losses will be, but there is a million dollars' worth of stock in the Nicola region, and a large proportion will perish. Smaller ranchers, being not so well prepared as their richer neighbors, will suffer most, and in consequence feel very despondent.

The butchers of Victoria have been importing dressed mutton from California, and find it cheaper and better than from Oregon, the usual market. If the present severe weather continues in Oregon and British Columbia, Victoria will have to look to California for her beef supply.

'A BIG THING FOR TACOMA.

The Northern Pacific to Build Car Shops and Coal Docks.

TACOMA, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—New York special to the Globe: The Northern Pacific directors held a three hours' session to-day, in which a great deal of important business was transacted, especially to Tacoma, as an appropriation of $635,000 was made for the immediate construction to complete the car shops on the flats south of the Puyallup river. The board has also authorized the immediate construction of branch lines from Durham, in a northerly direction, through the Green river and Raging river coal fields to the Snoqualmie river, a distance of about eighteen miles, also the construction of three miles of road from Burnett or South Prairie coal mines up South Prairie creek to the mines of the Washington Improvement Company.

The shops will include a round house with forty-two stalls coal platforms, sand house and pit, store house, blacksmith shops, machine shops equipped with the most approved machinery, also boiler shops, tank shops, coach shops, and planing mills.

Snowing Again at Pendleton.

PENDLETON, Feb 20.—[Special Telegram.]—Trains were all on time to-day except Nos. 1 and 4. The former arrived at 8:30 and the latter at 6:30 P. M. The thermometer sunk to zero last night, and snow fell most of the day.

Frank Wright, the swindler, was brought before Justice Bishop this morning on a charge of petty larceny. He was fined $25, and, not being able to pay the fine, was sent to jail for twelve days. Wright says he is agreeably surprised at this light punishment. He expected three months.

A petition was presented this afternoon to the county court for the appointment of Jacob Frazer and T. F. Rourke to be to be administrators of the late N. K. Frazer's interest in the firm of Rourke & Frazer. Bonds to the amount of $50,000 were prepared.

Judge Bishop is circulating a petition for appointment as United States commissioner, vice Fred Page-Tustin, resigned.

Daring Robbery at Harrisburg.

ALBANY, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—This morning at 8:30 a stranger called at the residence of Damon Smith a druggist at Harrisburg, and awoke him, saying his name was Williams; that his wife was sick and he wanted some medicine. Smith accompanied him to the store. On lighting a lamp the stranger confronted him with a revolver and ordered him to open the safe. Another man appeared at the door also with a drawn revolver. The proprietor was forced to open the safe. The two men then bagged the burglar, bound him hand and foot and took $900 from the safe and his gold watch. The men then quickly left the store. Smith succeeded within an hour in releasing himself but the men escaped and no clue has been obtained by the officers, who pursued them to this city.

The Montana Bogus Legislature.

HELENA, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—This morning, Representatives Woodson, Breen and Hogan members of the democratic house, accompanied by "Chief Clerk" Pond, called at the state auditor's office to have their per diem and mileage audited. They simply asked a question and State Auditor Kenny replied that the only means he had of knowing his distinguished visitors to be members of the lower house would be by the certification to the fact by the speaker and chief clerk of the lower house, and that according to the decision of the supreme court, there could be no question as to who constituted the legal house and who was the speaker. Thereupon the committee retired.

Lewiston Wants a Railroad.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—The people of Lewiston and vicinity are holding large and enthusiastic railroad meetings with the view of getting early railroad connections with Spokane Falls and the Sound ports. They are determined to secure better transportation facilities to get their immense wheat crop to market than is now afforded by the uncertain river service of the Union Pacific. It is a crying shame that this section is left so long without a road.

The Lloyd Bankruptcy.

TACOMA, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—The stock of goods which was held by the Lloyd Mercantile Co., at Buckley, was sold Wednesday under foreclosure of a chattel mortgage held jointly by the First National bank of Portland and the Citizens' National bank of Tacoma, to secure claims amounting to $7800. The stock, which was valued at $9500, was purchased by Foss & Peterson, of Tacoma.

Preservation of the Sacramento.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—Californians will make a decided, honest effort to pass a bill providing for appointment of three commissioners to prevent the Sacramento river from overflowing its banks, but have little hope that such a measure can become a law. It is apparently a hopeless task. The house particularly will never agree to any such extraordinary measure as was required for the Mississippi river. The latter stream, it is claimed, is one affecting the commerce of almost the entire country, while the Sacramento only facilitates the commerce of several counties. The real fight, however, will be made to secure a larger appropriation for preservation of the Sacramento.

The Holy War in Canada.

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—In the commons to-day the debate on the anti-Orange bill was continued. The premier, Sir John Macdonald, made the remark that not possessing the eagerness of youth to go into financial wrangling his arms he appealed to his followers and the members of the opposition to unite and bury forever the vexed question which already too long would only rend Canada's credit and prosperity, finally ending in a bitter war of bloodshed in which race should be armed against race, blood against blood, creed against creed, flag on against religion and language against language.

Don't be a nuisance! Cure that cough with Kidd's Cough Syrup. 25 cents.

SOCIALISM A GIANT.

The German Elections Result in Defeat of Bismarck.

CONSERVATIVE LOSS VERY HEAVY

The Red Flag Party Doubles Its Vote, Heading the Poll in Berlin.

MANY SECOND BALLOTS NECESSARY

Virchow and Richter, the Liberal Leaders, Snowed Under by Socialists—New Era for an Army-Cursed Nation.

BERLIN, Feb 20.—The general election for members of the reichstag took place to-day. The vote polled was phenomenal. Election officials were overwhelmed with work, and at the polling places were unable to keep up with the crowds of electors who during the dinner hour hastened to deposit their votes. A majority of the factories were closed during the day. Many anti-Semitic conservatives voted for socialist candidates in order to split Virchow.

CRAZY FREAK OF THE EMPEROR.

Early this morning the emperor suddenly ordered a general alarm of the garrison of Berlin. The infantry turned out at double-quick and the cavalry at a full trot to Tempelhober. The emperor arrived on the field very soon dressed in the full uniform of a general, accompanied by three generals, a set of liveried soldiers and a body of gendarmerie carrying the imperial purple standard. The spectacle caused great excitement and rumors of electoral disorder. The people were almost panic stricken until it was announced that the maneuver was simply one of the military surprises inaugurated by the emperor to test the efficiency of the garrison to reply to a sudden attack by an enemy.

SOCIALISTS FIGHT WITH THE POLICE.

This afternoon there were violent and riotous scenes before the various socialistic headquarters in this city. The mob in the eastern part of the city defied the police, who finally attacked the infuriated crowd with drawn swords. Shots were exchanged and many were wounded on both sides. The police were called out and assisted in putting an end to the emeute.

SOCIALISTS CARRY BERLIN.

The result of the elections have been surprising to the conservative element. The socialists elect their candidates Singer and Liebknecht in the fourth and sixth districts respectively. In the remaining four districts new elections will be required. The liberals carried no single district. In the first district Traeger (liberal) has 6073, Zelder (conservative) 4090 and Kannis (socialist) 3586. In the second district Virchow (liberal) has 17,772, Irmer (conservative) 15,783, Janiszwoski (socialist) 10,832. In the third district, Munckel (liberal) has 11,074, Wilberger (socialist) 12,278. In the fourth district, Richter (liberal) and Mehko (conservative) are beaten by Singer (socialist.) In the fifth district Baumbach (liberal) has 10,666, Lindke (conservative) 4324, Auerbach (socialist) 7213. In the sixth Pachnicke (liberal) and Lieutenbrown (conservative) are beaten by Liebknecht (socialist.) The excitement is intense.

THE SOCIALIST VOTE DOUBLED.

In the first, second and third districts of this city, supplementary elections will be necessary, and also in many outside points. At midnight the apparent result is that the Government parties have lost fifteen seats, and that socialists throughout Germany have doubled their vote. Among prominent socialists elected are Liebknecht and Singer, the latter defeating Richter, one of the most distinguished leaders of the German liberal party.

THE RUSHING TIDE OF SOCIALISM.

In Berlin the anti-Semitic faction abstained from voting because the candidates did not meet the approval of the electoral committee. Indications are that the Deutsche freisinnige party may secure two seats in Berlin, and it is not unlikely this party will lose all the others throughout the country.

The great fact of the election is the enormous and unexpected increase in the socialist vote. This party manifested strength in places where it was unknown before, and the other parties will have to make a firm combination against it to stem the tide of the supplementary elections, of which there will be many. In Berlin alone the socialist vote increased 29,000, and the conservatives lost 34,000.

BRUSSELS, Feb 20.—[Dunlap's Cable News.]—A thousand socialists from Rupen, Prussia, crossed the Belgian frontier to hold a meeting, but were expelled by the Belgian police.

CABLE NOTES.

The Fairies Pounced Upon Him.

LONDON, Feb 20.—[Dunlap's Cable News.]—H. J. Leslie, proprietor of the defunct "Cinderella" pantomime, lately at her majesty's theater, presided at a dinner of a dramatic and musical society last Wednesday. On the same night a deputation of the ballet girls who were thrown out of work and are consequently starving, called on Miss Minnie Palmer to solicit some money on account of unpaid salaries. John Rogers rose advice instead of money, and told the girls that Mr. Leslie was at that moment in the chair at a charity dinner and enjoying all the luxuries of the season upon which fourteen girls took to the banqueting hall and called for Mr. Leslie. Mr. Leslie was caught fairly, and pay appeared several half sovereigns to the girls, turned and fled.

Lord Salisbury Insults Free Brazil.

LONDON, Feb 20.—[Dunlap's Cable News.]—The Brazilian charge d'affaires wished to submit to Lord Salisbury an account of a war on coast ports committed by some English vessels of war who refused to comply with the new law that ports only made them British coasting ports. The English officers picked the Brazilian officers out of a window, injuring several, then barricaded themselves against arrest and appealed to the British minister to protect them as British subjects. Lord Salisbury, although annoyed at the occurrence, snubbed the Brazilian charge d'affaires and refused to recognize him as the representative of Brazil at the Court of St. James.

All Preparing to Jump On Germany.

HANOVER, Feb. 20.—[Dunlap's Cable News.]—The Courier, official organ of the government, says the assertion that Germany is spending an extraordinary amount of money on war preparations is untrue as statistics show that France, Russia, England and Italy are making great preparations in proportion to their financial importance, and also in view of the fact that all these nations are ready to jump upon Germany at a moment's notice.

Russia Asks Bulgaria for War Indemnity.

SOFIA, Feb 20.—Russia has demanded of the government of Bulgaria the payment of 3,000,000 roubles, arrears of money due on account of the Russian occupation during 1878 and 1879. The demand is in part related to the course of events under the government of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia. Russia has never pressed the debt, but demands arrears now, apparently under a sense of irritation.

COW CREEK TROUBLE VERY BAD

Snowplows Patrol the Sierras, to Keep the Whiteness Off the Track—Central Pacific Keeps Even With the Snow.

ASHLAND Feb. 20—Twenty-five thousand people in Rogue river valley who have been for more than a month past wholly cut off from the outside world will probably be gratified to-morrow from a mail train with a carload of mail transferred beyond Dunsmuir is reported, rapidly approaching and will arrive to-morrow by 12 o'clock if nothing happens

Reports from the wrecking forces in Cow creek canyon indicate that the damage to the railroad is much greater than at first anticipated At last reports Pratt's camp had not yet reached the big slide The road north of Glendale will have to be almost entirely newly built. It is now generally understood that the railroad people have abandoned all hopes of clearing the big West Fork slide, but will build three miles of entirely new road around it on the opposite side of the canyon Beyond the big slide many miles of track will have to be almost entirely rebuilt also The latest reports from railroad officials who have been over the ground say that through trains cannot possibly run between Portland and San Francisco within six weeks Local trains have been running a number of days between Ashland and Glendale, but have not carried mail regularly

SISSONS Cal Feb 20—The storm has reopened It is snowing furiously Over a foot additional has fallen. A snowplow and several locomotives are bucking snow The train which was five day behind from Dunsmuir arrived this evening. The engines of the same were off the track a large part of the time, and but eight miles were made in three days. No landslides interrupt the plows which keep running, as the snow is over four feet deep in places. The Edgewood and Dunsmuir blockades are now cleared.

Snowplows Patrol the Track—Heavy Rainfall in San Francisco

SACRAMENTO Cal, Feb 20—The cyclone and rotary plows have at last broken the new blockade on the Sierra Nevadas, and if no more deep snow drifts upon the track trains will again be running within twenty-four hours. A number of eastbound passengers who have been delayed at Colfax returned to Sacramento to night and will proceed eastward by the Southern route. One of the eastbound trains which has been on the road five days succeeded in reaching Truckee to-day No trains will be sent out until all the rails have been flanged out, in order to insure safety

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20—The rainfall in this city and vicinity last night was the heaviest known for a long time amounting to nearly two inches. The gutters became small rivers and unfortunate pedestrians were soaked by the downpour To-day there was some sunshine, but the storm is not considered over The season's total in this city to date now nearly equals that of the famous season of 1862, the year of Sacramento's great flood.

The records show that 39 inches of rain fell here that season to the present date The same record for this season gives a total of 37 only two inches less than the 1862 season The heaviest rains that season were in January, over two feet being recorded here contrasted with only six inches last month In that year heavy rains came later, making the month's total over 7½ inches. If precedence is of value, we may expect yet heavy showers during the present month. The January rainfall of 1862, 24 inches, was the heaviest known It all came down in eighteen days. There were many floods of which the Sacramento inundation was the most disastrous. At Marysville there was nearly three inches for twenty-four hours, and all the upper Sacramento Valley was [illegible] No rainfall south of Tulare here.

Snow fell last night at a number of points where it is rarely seen. The storm raged in the Sierras but the snow came lower down, also in Colusi, Rumsey Willows, Placerville, Tehama, Corning and Auburn, and according to Southern Pacific reports it was yet falling early to-day at Williams, Tehama and Delta. At most places the snow changed to rain so quickly that the winter mantle remained on the ground only a short time Snow fell heavily in the Sierras all last night and early to-day The new snow measured twenty five inches at Blue Canyon. It fell on the Central Pacific all the way from Auburn to Truckee, and the snow plows were so impeded that trains could not get through West bound passengers on trains due here yesterday and to-day are still held at Truckee, and the east-bound overland train of Tuesday was at Summit at noon to-day Last night's east bound train is held at Colfax. No trains were sent out from here to-day over the Central route, and none will be sent into the mountains until the track is clear. The new snow is piled into the cuts where the old snow is thirty and forty feet deep in places, and the plows have the greatest difficulty in throwing it out

There is a landslide at Manchester which has covered the track so as to make it impassable, and the Los Angeles express which was dispatched last night had to go by way of Niles and Livermore, and the southern train which came in this morning traveled over the same route. Removal of the slide will take but a short time, however, with the large force of men that is employed, and it is expected that the track will be clear this evening On the Donahue road, running to Ukiah, workmen have cleared the landslide away at tunnel No 6, one and a half miles north of Cloverdale, and now passengers can go through to Ukiah by traveling about two miles on a handcar

COLFAX Cal, Feb 20.—An outfit train with 200 men, which has been lying here since noon to-day, waiting for wreckers to clear the track of last night's wreck, will now leave for the blockade with four engines. About 100 of these men have been employed here this afternoon shoveling snow from the main and side tracks and depot yards. It is reported here that both rotary and cyclone plows are doing good work. The colony being east of and near Shady Run, and coming west while the cyclone is keeping clear the mile and a half of track east of Cascade.

SACRAMENTO, Cal Feb 20—Last night at 5 20, at Cape Horn mills, plow engine 315 and four other locomotives were derailed by a broken rail. Fireman Evans was severely scalded and bruised. Engineer William Borland was badly injured at out the hips, and his fireman Bates, more or less bruised The injured were brought here to the railroad hospital.

DUTCH FLAT, Cal, Feb 20—It has snowed steadily since last night until noon to day when it broke away for about two hours, but to-night it is snowing hard with indications of continuing all night. People are kept busy keeping snow off buildings. Wood men and miners living out of town are coming in on snowshoes as they are out of provisions The railroad is open but teen Emigrant Gap and Truckee. No 3 of the 17 h will reach Truckee to-night An outfit train is at work between Blue Canyon and Emigrant Gap

HURON, Cal., Feb. 20—The heaviest and most disastrous flood known to the settlers of Huron struck this place to-day, causing heavy damage to the town and surrounding country. Settlers who have been here for thirty years have never seen such a flood in this country before. The flooded country is about fifteen miles long and one mile wide Trains will not run from Huron to Alcade for some time, there being washouts between here and that place.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Feb. 20.—The showers which succeeded the heavy rain of last night caused the gauge to measure 1.75 inches for the storm, making 30 inches of rain for the season, the largest on record for a number of years. Advices from Camptonville and other places on the Yuba river to-night state that snow has been falling in every direction, and that it now covers the ground to a greater depth than at any time during the present winter.

NEVADA, Cal., Feb. 20.—It has been snowing very fast this evening but the shifting of the wind for the past six hours gives some here that the storm is about over. At the Mountain house and Forest City the total depth of snow is nineteen feet, and at Graniteville twenty five feet

PETALUMA, Cal. Feb. 20.—It commenced rain again here Saturday afternoon, making 28.08 inches for the season. Farmers are badly discouraged. There will be no wheat in this section except a small area of volunteer which will be very late,

PLACERVILLE, Cal Feb 20—The storm which commenced Sunday continues. About two feet of heavy snow has since fallen rapidly melting into its equivalent of 4.8 inches of water The total rainfall for the season is 34½ inches

The Carnegie Free Library, in Allegheny, Dedicated.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S ADDRESS

Noble Use of Accumulated Wealth—The Iron King About to Give Two Million Dollars for a Free Library in Pittsburg

PITTSBURG Feb. 20—The formal dedication of the Carnegie free library in Allegheny took place this evening, and the institution was declared open by President Harrison. The elegant music hall was filled by an audience long before the hour for the opening At 8 o'clock President Harrison and Andrew Carnegie arrived The president Mr Carnegie Enoch Pratt of Baltimore and George Lauder occupied a box to the left of the stage In the right hand box Governor Beaver Congressmen Dalzell and Bayne and Professor Langley were seated The exercises opened with the singing of "America" by the Mozart Society After the religious services Mr Carnegie in a brief but feeling manner presented the library to the city, and the committee for their devotion to the work, and the president, the governor, the congressmen and Mr Pratt of Baltimore, the pioneer of free libraries, for their presence, for having honored the speaker and the citizens by traveling hundreds of miles that they might set the stamp of their approval upon the dedication At the conclusion of the address Carnegie handed Mayor Pearson the key to the building and the latter in a brief speech accepted the trust imposed on him.

President Harrison was the next speaker After paying his compliments to Allegheny county and its industries, he said, in part "I saw to day in these great works of human industry, young men, not yet in the middle of life controlling great mills, and the suggestion came to my mind how this institution would promote the interests and intelligence of the young men of this prosperous county, because it is the mind of man that has wrought all these great achievements The hand is not cunning in itself It is from the brain that it gets impulse and teaching that enables it to perform difficult tasks which are alone to distinguish man I hope this institution may carry with it always and with every book that rests upon its shelf the suggestion to those who will partake part in its blessings "read and think," because unless thinking accompanies reading there is not much profit in books I congratulate you that you have citizens who could conceive a work like this May I not do what I will with my own? It is a selfish spirit that led cates to personal luxury the fruits of toil. How much higher and nobler the use of accumulated wealth have we before us in this magnificent structure to night. It gives me great pleasure to be associated with the inauguration of this great enterprise. No one can tell how wide and deep and strong the stream will be which will have its origin here We can not follow it through generations that are to come It is left in your charge, citizens of Allegheny, and speaking for its generous donor, I declare it now opened to public use and a place of assembly for all and I charge you that you care for it in such manner that its highest usefulness may be reached, and that it may not in your hands fall below the high thought which was in the mind of him who has out of his own personal means erected and dedicated the library to pub lic use [Applause.]

President Harrison was followed by Mr Pratt, of Baltimore, Governor Beaver, Congressman Dalzell Congressman Bayne and others The great scientific party were then escorted through the art gallery, after which they entered carriages and were driven to Duquesne Club

The doors of the library were then thrown open for the remainder of the evening to public inspection The building cost $300 000, and includes a library, art gallery and music hall. It is stated semi-officially that Carnegie has decided to increase his donation for the library to Pittsburg from one to two million dollars. The original donation was $1 00 000 President Harrison took the train to-night for home.

STATE CONTROL OF RAILROADS

The President of the Alton Suggests a Plan of Government Purchase

CHICAGO, Feb. 20—The annual report of the Chicago & Alton road for the year 1889 shows the following figures Gross earnings, $7 516 616, an increase of $5151 operating expenses $4 571 726, a decrease of $96,348, net earnings, $2,944 889 an increase of $101 500

The question of railway legislation by the [illegible] at great length by President Blackstone, and a statement is made that railroad property has been greatly oppressed thereby The report says: "We should not complain unless prepared to suggest a remedy." The suggestion is made that the national government shall acquire ownership of all railroads in the United States now used for interstate traffic by the exercise of its right of eminent domain, or by purchase, payment therefor to be made by government bonds, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 3 per cent. per annum to be redeemed by the annual application of a sinking fund equal in amount to 1 per cent. of the whole amount of such bonds issued, the annual interest and sinking fund to be paid from the net earnings, and the rates for transportation reduced from year to year, so as to provide no more money than needed for such payments.

Other details are elaborated at length, the chief features being a proposal that the government of the roads and the making of rates be vested in a board of national railroad directors, and that all railroad employes after one year's service shall not be subject to discharge without cause and proper investigation

The report, in conclusion, sarcastically observes that nothing less potent than a special interposition of Providence can cause such a change of public sentiment as to induce the government to admit that it has been in the least degree unjust in the treatment of railroads during the past twenty years.

Corbett's Tricor Fight a Newspaper Joke—Peter Jackson Knocks Out a Washington Pugilist in Forty Seconds

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 19—[Special Telegram.]—As it has been agreed that the winner of Dempsey McCarthy fight shall meet Mitchell in April however, as expected, Corbett and Dempsey fought La Blanche it was understood that it was to be his last battle and that on winning it he would retire He stated to day, in the California Club in the presence of several prominent sporting men that he does not desire to fight Young Mitchell, and will not meet him unless a good purse is offered

"There is the man I want to meet" said Dempsey, pointing to La Blanche's picture, and I want to say I will fight him for any purse and lay him a side bet of $10 000 against $2,000. I have not the money myself but my friends have, and as La Blanche has stated that he was to meet the winner of the last fight, he can hardly refuse me a meeting now I only fought McCarthy just to get a step closer to La Blanche,"

Young Mitchell says he is ready to meet Dempsey or any man at 154 pounds. He had told President Fulda, he said, that he would meet the winner of the Dempsey McCarthy fight, and is ready to keep his promise He will fight in April if a proper purse be offered

NEW YORK, Feb 20.—[Special Telegram.]—Jack Dempsey's friends here demand a fight between the Nonpareil and La Blanche, and are willing to back their pet to the amount of $15 000

NEW YORK, Feb 20—[Special Telegram.]—Sporting men were glad Dempsey won in his fight at San Francisco, but there was not much money wagered here. John L. Sullivan expressed himself pleased because Dempsey won. The "Big 'un" says the accounts show McCarthy is a game fellow When Sullivan was asked if he thought Dempsey would beat the Marine, he replied "At even weight, yes Giving La Blanche two or three pounds, yes More than five pounds would be a question, and if he gave him as much advantage in weight as in the previous battle, I think result would be the same."

Never Wore the Mittens in His Life—Tucson Newspaper Joke.

TUCSON, Feb 20—The report recently published in a local newspaper and which appears to have gained general credence abroad purporting to give the details of an impromptu prize fight between Corbett, the San Francisco pugilist, and a well known citizen of Tucson, as the former passed through here en route to New Orleans to meet Kilrain, was purely a hoax, gotten up by a newspaper reporter as a practical joke upon County Surveyor George J Roskruge, who never put on the gloves in his life.

WHEAT—Quotations: $1 17½@1 20.

The London correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, writing under date of January 25, has the following to say on the wheat situation abroad:

Since the date of my last letter the wheat trade here has been very quiet and prices have been drooping gradually, almost imperceptibly, until we find the value of California cargoes for prompt shipment to be now 35s, and of cargoes arrived off the coast about 32s. Russian wheats, which continue pretty plentiful, are also rather easier, though the exchange value of the rouble, which has now risen to 25d, has raised the c. i. f. price of shippers in South Russia. Perhaps the most important item of news lately has been the official account of the stock at Odessa, which we have all along supposed did not exceed 6,000,000 bushels, but where it proves to have been 11,328,000 bushels on January 1. This means, of course, that Russia will be able to ship more freely during the winter than was expected, especially as, so far, Odessa, Sebastopol and the new port of Novorossisk remain quite open to navigation. The mild winter in Europe has in fact lifted what little confidence there was in the trade, for, beside enabling supplies to come forward regularly and in larger quantities than was expected, it reduces consumption below the usual winter level. Indeed, the great complaint, in London particularly, is that the consumption demand is so small for the season, while millers and factors are well stocked. In point of fact, the stocks in first hands, which are relatively small, do not offer the usual criterion, because the stocks in second hands are so liberal. This is a point which is not to be overlooked, and which is clear from the fact that our supplies of wheat and flour since September have been about 93,000,000 bushels, deducting the exports, while our consumption has probably not exceeded 84,000,000 bushels, this surplus of 9,000,000 bushels does not appear in the stock returns from first hands, for the total stock of wheat and flour in the ports on January 1 were 15,600,000 bushels, against 16,400,000 bushels September 1. The logical conclusion is that the bulk of this surplus supply must be in "second hands" and this accounts for much of our present dullness.

Moreover the fact that Russia keeps up a fair supply renders our buyers independent of American wheat, and the indications undoubtedly are that our sellers will have to come down to our level if they wish to dispose of their supplies. True it is that a plenty of drafts is finding its way from the Atlantic ports to this country, so that from surplus is being gradually disposed of; but this latter fact has a weakening influence as far as prices are concerned, the sale of foreign flour being by no means good just now. In London, for instance, there is little or no sale for spring patents at 32s 6d, which is about the price asked at our home millers make a very respectable patent at 28 6d less, and the same is comparatively the case in Liverpool, the trade is now looking forward to an increasing quantity in sight, owing to the new Australian wheat shipments, which have begun, and though the total quantity now afloat is only moderate, viz: 16,762,000 bushels, against 19,760,000 bushels last year, buyers expect that supplies will prove sufficient though not excessive during the next three months, (in which I agree with them); and that then the future crop prospects will exercise the predominating influence. Thus I see no indication of any material improvement, but rather the reverse, for the Chilian and Argentine crops are said to be very good and France at present shows no signs of any pressing demand for foreign wheat, which is indeed quoted lower in that country than in England. Altogether, therefore, low as prices are, I look for still lower before the next crop comes in, unless it (the new crop) promises unfavorably. The first official report regarding the Indian wheat crop is by no means favorable. In the Punjab the acreage is estimated to be 6,878,000 against 6,919,100 last year, and in the Bombay presidency it is said to be nearly 25 per cent less than last year. Since April 1 last, India has shipped 22,504,000 bushels, against 20,294,000 bushels in the same time last year, or about 25 per cent less, while Russia, since August 1, has exported 49,720,000 bushels, against 54,236,000 bushels last year. The immense reserves left over in Russia from the 1888 crop have, I think, not had sufficient credit, but that they were enormous is evident from the fact that the shipments since August have principally consisted of old wheat, while of the stock at Odessa on January 1, which was 11,328,000 bushels, more than three-fourths were old wheat of the crop of 1888. It follows, it is true, that the new crop must have been very short, which it undoubtedly was, otherwise, with all the old wheat coming forward, stocks would have been very large.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Wheat Neglected—Potatoes Still Scarce—Contracting for Next Summer's Hops.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—[Special Telegram.]—Business ran smoothly along, with fewer fluctuations last week. The local clearing house exchanges were $15,186,074, against $16,206,856 for the same week last year. In the cereal market wheat is depressed and neglected. But few vessels are being chartered, hence the demand for wheat is limited to an occasional cargo. For No. 1, $1 25 is now full figure. This is about as low as wheat ever gets. Flour is reported in good demand, at unchanged prices. Bran and middlings are firm, under steady inquiry. Oats are higher. Stocks have been more or less light for some little time, but there were more liberal receipts yesterday. The demand is fair. Hay is quiet, at previous prices. Beans are dull, because the prices for beans and pinks are so high that trading in them has almost ceased. Potatoes continue to slowly advance, and every week finds them a few cents higher than in the preceding week. Shipments from Australia and Minnesota have been received, attracted hither by high prices. Onions show a little change in quotations per cental, but trade has been livelier during the past several days, there being a good shipping demand. Eggs are firm at 30@32 2½ per dozen for Eastern and California. Renewed demand and prices have recovered slightly. Canned salmon is still neglected and weak, with ample stocks.

Stocks at the call board have been greatly reduced. There are only three or four descriptions left in the market. Under these circumstances there can be no business of consequence.

Hops are very stiff at 9 and 10 cents per pound. Choice lots are getting scarce, hence trade is not large. Already there is talk of contracting for the new crop, with bids at 12½ cents, the general asking price being 15 cents.

The meat market shows no further variation. Hogs are firm under light receipts. Supplies of beef, mutton, veal and lambs were large up to the present storm, but have since naturally fallen off. Coal is flat under heavy supplies, but dealers continue to talk of improvement by and by. Receipts for the week foot up the very large total of 37,127 tons, of which all but 1858 tons was asset coal. A new description called New Wellington is now being offered. A local circular says: Now that the weather has improved, shipments from the north are coming in freely, and a large number of detained vessels are putting in an appearance. There is no noticeable change in values. Some more Australian coal arrived unsold and had to be disposed of at prices less by the importer a large loss. The Australian list is gradually diminishing, and fewer sacrifices will have to be made later on. The result of these late sales of foreign coal will lead to importers only arranging freights for this market after a consignment for future delivery has been made, thus insuring themselves at least a commission on the transaction, and avoid the serious losses emanating from recent sales.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Stocks here not so active to-day, the bears combining their selling to slow stocks only, which had little effect. Tennessee coal again made one of its sensational drops, declining from 78¾ to 70. The market, relieved from pressure in the afternoon, slowly advanced and closed dull and firm, at but slight changes for the day. Tennessee Coal lost 8¾; Colorado Coal 1¾. Governments, steady.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Produce receipts past 24 hours included: 188,000 ctls. wheat; 16,200 qr sks flour; 2700 ctls barley, 6500 ctls oats, 1200 sks potatoes.

Freights and charters—There has been very little activity in grain freights since our last weekly report, owing principally to the small amount of open tonnage in port. Freights rule firm. Grain charters for the week were as follows: Br ship Maloe, iron, 1469 tons, wheat to U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered prior to arrival at 37s 6d. Br ship Centaur, iron, 1696 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, re-chartered spot at 38s. Br ship Moresby, iron, 1217 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered prior to arrival at 38s 9d. Br bk Doverley Hall, iron, 1393 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp, chartered prior to arrival at 37s 6d. Ship W. F. Babcock, 2022 tons, for U. K., Havre or Antwerp at 38s. Coal freights rule steady and vessels are in good demand. The weeks charters were: Rol bk Bundaleer, to load at Departure Bay; the bk Oregon to load at Nanaimo; Br bk Wilna to load at Nanaimo and ship Glory of the Seas, Nanaimo, all for this port. Lumber vessels continue in good demand at full rates but there is little tonnage offering. The bk Arkwright was chartered a few days since to load on the Sound for Australia and the bark Amelia, Puget Sound to Honolulu.

Wheat—After selling around $1 25 per cental for several days, wheat is up again to $1 27½. The advance is based on firmer foreign markets and fair local buying movement either for tonnage now in port or soon to arrive. Futures—While trading generally was of the same character, the feeling was rather in favor of a higher range of values; buyer year wheat advanced from $1 85½ to $1 87, closing at $1 86½; buyer season gained but ½c. At to-day's morning call buyer year sold as follows: 960 tons at $1 87, 100 tons at $1 86¾, 200 tons at $1 86½; buyer season $1 92½. After noon session—Buyer year, $1 86½; buyer season, $1 92½.

Barley—This cereal moved quietly along at prices which in the main favored buyers. There was little speculative spirit manifested in the market and steady receipts had a discouraging effect upon holders and in many instances concessions were granted to work off pressing consignments. Feed barley of good to choice description ranges at from 75 to 80c; lower feed, 70@72½c; brewing, steady at 82½@85. Options—Dull. No material alteration in prices. Afternoon session—Buyer year, 84½c; buyer season, 78½c.

Oats—The oat market during the week under review was active and prices were very firm, choice feed selling as high as $1 40 per cental. Light receipts and small stocks in local ware houses gave holders the advantage which they worked for all possible profits. To-day's offerings were considerably larger, and values show a decline of 2½@5c per cental. Quote feed good to choice $1 27½@1 35, milling $1 35@1 40, common feed $1 10@1 25.

Millstuffs—The demand has been already one and, as supplies kept pace with requirements, there were no changes to note in values. Bran ranges at $13@15 per ton; middlings, $16@20 per ton.

Potatoes—The market has been short on good round stock, and receipts of choice potatoes are still deficient. The average requirements of the locus of Nebraska were placed on this market, but prices are still very firm for choice grades. Burbanks, $2 25@2 50.

Hops—A small local business is doing. Choice qualities are firmly held at 12½c, higher; old stock sells 60@70 to 7c.

Wool—Quiet and without quotable changes in in the price list.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

The Man Who Rescued Mrs. Geisel and Her Children.

PORTLAND, Feb. 20.—[TO THE EDITOR.]—I have read in to-day's OREGONIAN the pathetic speech of Congressman Hermann in the house of representatives, asking for a pension for Mrs. Geisel. Mr. Hermann gives a correct statement as far as he goes, but fails to mention the name of the man who rescued Mrs. Geise and her children. It was an act of heroism to carry on the negotiations for the rescue, for it was almost certain death even to approach the strong hold of the Indians. The man who took his life in his hand to accomplish it was Charles Brown, commonly known as "Dutch Charley." He was a Russian Jew, a sailor, hunter and miner. The writer of this knew him well, but does not know whether he is alive or not. He was a splendid specimen of manhood, of a roving disposition, free and easy, but in the hour of danger a brave and noble man, who ought not to be forgotten in connection with the rescue of Mrs. Geisel and her children. B. G.

[Perhaps some reader of THE OREGONIAN in Southern Oregon can tell whether Charles Brown still lives or not.—ED.]

OREGONIANA.

The Yoquina bar, which has been impassable several weeks, is now in excellent condition, with seven feet of water in the clear, and the steamers Willamette Valley and Farallone sailed for San Francisco on Wednesday.

Charles Danton, of The Dalles, owns the oldest sleigh in the Northwest. It was built in St. Petersburg, Russia, in 1814, for the Hudson Bay Company, and was used the next year in exploring the McKenzie river on a search for the party led by Sir John Franklin.

A big landslide occurred on the south side of Spencer butte, near Eugene, last week. It is said about forty acres at the foot of the butte, which before was covered with small oak trees, was covered with from four to ten feet of rocks and dirt. The slide went down with a noise and large trees were crushed to splinters.

The Astoria Pioneer says: William Reid indicates his faith in the railroad by sending down $25,000 with which to pay off obligations, which sum has been in the city for several days. If he were not in earnest in his intentions he would hardly invest this amount of cash at this time. There is not a doubt but that the road will be built under the present situation, and the feeling among stockholders and others is one of confidence.

The revenue cutter Corwin returned to Astoria Tuesday from a southern cruise. She has been gone for twelve days, going as far south as Monterey, where she lied for some time. Captain Hooper, her commander, reports that floods have dammed the mouth of the Umpqua river so that vessels cannot cross the bar. The steamer Columbia and four schooners are locked in and will have to stay there until the river suits a channel through the bar.

Astoria will soon have a new and complete electric fire alarm system, as Chief Engineer Stockton has ordered two miles of wire, 500 crow's feet, 500 sinos, 500 brackets and, in fact, all the appliances necessary to a complete system except the bell. This action was necessitated by the city ordinance requiring all electric light wires to be hung on one side of the street and telegraph and telephone wires on the other, and all wires to be taken from the house tops.

Mr. Green Gay, of Walton, gave to the Eugene Register recently an account of the wrecking of his house by the high water. He thinks the trouble at his place was caused by a land slide in the canyon some distance above, which dammed the creek until a large reservoir was formed, which suddenly broke loose and the water rushed down in torrents, carrying everything before it. It struck his house about 1 o'clock in the morning. He and his wife and four children were in the house at the time. His chicken house was washed against his house and crushed in the roof, which pinned his wife and children down for some time; but he rescued them, and it was found they were only slightly bruised but no bones broken. He lost nearly everything he had in the house.

One of the most horrible cases of suffering reported since the high water, comes to light on Wildcat creek, says the Eugene Register. Mr. George Sovern and his family, who reside on the creek, were driven from their home by the rapidly rising water, and fled to a mountain near by for safety. They took with them only a part of their clothing and some bedding. They remained in this condition several days without food or shelter. At last the children's stomachs began to swell, and the father thought they would die. He then killed the dog, which they ate. They started to cross the mountain to another house, but being thinly clad and without shoes, they were compelled to retreat on account of the snow. The water finally subsided until they were able to get to the house and get a sack of flour, which kept them from starving until relief came. Nearly all their property was destroyed.

WASHINGTONIANA.

Loggers and mill men on the Willapa are happy. The heavy rains of the past ten days have raised the Willapa and tributary streams sufficiently to enable loggers to bring down 12,000,000 feet of logs.

The Blaine Journal reports that during the month of January 738 instruments were filed for record in Whatcom county, 385 of which were deeds, the considerations aggregating $475,505 40, an average of $1235 each.

John Eigenfelder, of Irondale, missing since January 27, who was supposed to have been foully dealt with, was found at Port Townsend on Tuesday. He had experienced trouble with "Smuggler" Kelly, whom he considered a dangerous man, and had fled to a place of safety.

The capacity of the Northern Pacific car shops at Chency, Wash., is to be doubled. Brick buildings are to be constructed and new machinery put in, so that the shops will employ 1000 mechanics. Active preparations for the enlargement are already under way.

A fire that has been burning over eight months was discovered by a gang of workmen Tuesday while they were excavating the debris occasioned by the conflagration of June 6 last. The day before the great fire which swept over Seattle nearly nine months ago, the Post-Intelligencer, then located on the north side of Yesler avenue, west of Front street, received and stored in the basement of its building two carloads of printing paper. It was piled compactly in the basement and was supposed to have been entirely consumed. When the pick and shovel reached it yesterday, however, it blazed up brightly, and for a while defied the efforts of the workmen to extinguish it.

A number of land seekers were in Port Townsend last week preparing to go down to Neah bay to take up claims in the western part of Clallam county, where a large area of unsurveyed government land still remains open for settlement. The parties appeared to be hard working men who mean to go into the wilds of that section and make homes.

The county commissioners of Jefferson recently ordered that the property owned by the county on the flat at Port Townsend be appraised by the auditor and prosecuting attorney and sold at public auction for cash. The proceeds are to be applied towards the erection of a court house and jail on the county's property on the hill, near the new custom house. The court house is to cost $100,000.

Experience proves that nothing else so surely destroys scrofula, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Coquille Bar Shoaled—Condition of the Bars at Coos Bay and Umpqua.

Captain Symons United States engineers has received a letter from N. S. Littlefield, Empire City, who has charge of the government works at Coos bay and Coquille. He writes that half a mile square of the hills at Bolland prairie was washed down by the late flood in the Coquille, causing the bar to shoal considerably. The shoal opposite the lagoon above Bandon is of soft material, as is also the deposit inside the sea bar. The water at the time of writing, February 16, was as muddy as ever in the river. There was lots of sugar pine in the drift at Coquille, showing that it came from the head waters of the river.

In regard to Coos bay bar, Mr. Littlefield says: "The water continues good, though soundings this winter are somewhat less than in 1885. The steamer Arcata arrived yesterday coming in on the turn of the tide. Her least sounding was sixteen feet." The Coast Mail says the bar is all right; no sediment has been deposited and there is twenty-four feet of water at high tide.

Umpqua bar is reported very shoal. Captain Magee, with the tug Columbia, has been at Umpqua over a month unable to take out five vessels lying there. Besides the shallowness of the sea bar, it is reported that a bar has formed in the bay inside, about four miles above the entrance, on which there is only twelve feet at high water.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Mr. Freimann reminds the public that he has made a still greater reduction in his famous lunches at the cafe. He will also publish in the daily papers what his patrons will have for lunch every day. He commenced yesterday with two soups, two kinds of fish, four entrees, two roasts, two salads and dessert, elegantly cooked by the best French cook on the coast, and well served by an artistic waiter. This also entitles the patrons of the house to an elegant drink, artistically rotten up, or an imported cigar, for the small sum of 25 cents. It is surprising to see how popular Freimann's lunches are and the enormous business he does. Mr. Freimann was interviewed by an OREGONIAN reporter and asked how he can make that business pay. He simply says: "JUST LEAVE IT TO ME." Lunch commences at 11 A. M. and lasts until 2 P. M.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, FEB. 21.

NO TIME TO LOSE.

The moral certainty that the next house of representatives will be democratic ought to stimulate the republican majority in this to effective and fruitful effort. The country expects several things of the first national administration for fifteen years which has had entire control of the government. If it is disappointed, it will show its disappointment at the polls. Public expectation runs over a wide range of possible legislation and will not be satisfied with appropriation and river and harbor bills, however liberal. It is most urgent upon the point of tariff legislation. Not that the public cares a great deal about the tariff, as an abstract question. It is a mistake to suppose that the tariff is a popular issue or a magic word to work political conjury with. It is only when the tariff quest on is brought very close home to the popular feeling and the popular pocket, as it was in Oregon in 1888, that it influences many votes in itself. But the tariff question is also a revenue question and in that respect a good deal of public interest has been concentrated upon it. The public have come to regard the revenue surplus as a crying evil. Its hardships do not press upon them directly, but the average voter is intelligent enough to understand that the government cannot collect from the people by taxation fifty to one hundred million dollars more than it needs without somebody suffering for it in some way.

Both parties did their part to educate public opinion to regard the surplus as an evil, in the last two campaigns. Both pledged themselves in their platforms to remove it. The democrats tried to keep their pledge, but they went about it in the wrong way, were turned out of power, and the job intrusted to the republicans, who are just as strongly pledged to perform it. The people are looking for this performance just now with some measure of impatience. If the republican party does not reduce the revenues in the course of this administration, it will go into the next presidential race heavily handicapped. Whatever it is going to do in the course of this administration, it must do in this congress and ought to do in this session. The next session will be short and crowded with work, and the next house will almost certainly be democratic. The complete control of the republicans over the legislation of this administration will probably end on the 4th of March, 1891. Morebver the second session of the present congress will not meet until after the elections of 1890. If these are carried by the democrats, any hasty revenue legislation enacted by the republicans in their short remaining lease of power will be attributed to that defeat rather than re garded as a fulfillment of previous pledges. Now is the time for action. This session of congress should not adjourn without reducing the revenue.

It doesn't matter so much how the thing is done, if it is only done. Sugar may be put on the free list, the tobacco tax may be repealed, the free list enlarged or the whole schedule of duties scaled down on the Morrison plan. We think the first plan the best. A good many people are wedded to the second. But everybody is agreed that the revenue should be reduced. Minor difficulties ought to be harmonized. This should be as true in congress as out of it. Every republican member ought to agree as to the practical necessity of abolishing the surplus whatever may be his private and personal views as to the enjoyment he could have spending it in public buildings and internal improvements for the benefit of his constituents. With this substantial agreement upon the main point, the differences as to method, which our Washington dispatches hint are likely to defeat the passage of any revenue bill, ought to be overcome. They probably will be overcome when the republican members realize that the next presidential election may be decided by this winter's legislation.

Few women of the United States have impressed their individuality more strongly upon the public of this generation than has the woman whose name heads this article. Born at the foot of the Green mountains in South Adams, Massachusetts, on the 15th of February 1820, Miss Anthony has just passed her 70th birthday, which event was duly celebrated by her friends by a banquet given in her honor at the Riggs house Washington. Radical, earnest tireless many who have essayed to ridicule opinions which they have not found it easy to combat are compelled to give her credit for earnestness and sincerity of purpose in her work. She has stood the test of adverse criticism and frequent misrepresentation with a persistent courage that is sublime.

Her father was a stern Quaker, her mother an ardent Baptist yet they managed to dwell together in peace, and eventually to grow together in harmony of views, each becoming liberal progressive and tolerant of the other's opinions. The sturdy Quaker early impressed his sons and daughters alike with a spirit of independence and a desire to support themselves in honorable vocations. After finishing her education Susan B. engaged in school teaching, which vocation she followed with success for fifteen years. Although a careful and competent instructor, and an excellent disciplinarian, she received for her services as teacher but $8 a month while men not her superiors in these respects, and in many instances not her equals, received $30. At the close of this long period of faithful labor she had been able to accumulate, and that only by the closest economy $300. This experience, as she asserted from the platform in this state some years ago, taught her her first lesson in "woman's rights."

Since 1853 Miss Anthony has worked unceasingly in what has been known as the "woman movement" in the United States. Her labors have been characterized by an energy and zeal that has commanded the admiration of those who inclined their ears favorably to the doctrine of equal rights and the respect of its temperate, logical opponents.

During all of these years the self styled "bitter opponents" of this movement (the term "bitter" aptly describing the spirit of person engaged in any work who lacks the courtesy necessary to teach them respect for the sincere opinions of those who differ with them) have made Miss Anthony the target for coarse wit and unseemly ridicule. Taking refuge from the calm logic of her propositions behind methods so ignoble as these, they have failed utterly to turn her from the steady purpose of her deliberate convictions.

Between the years 1857 and 1865 she was also a faithful and able worker in the anti-slavery cause and as such, was the associate and co-laborer of the leading men and women of the nation. Her labors upon the platform were arduous and unremitting for more than a third of a century, and her personal endeavor and the public sentiment aroused thereby has been largely instrumental in securing the liberal legislation for women in the state of New York and elsewhere that has been a leading feature in the law making of a generation.

Mrs. Phebe A. Hanaford in her biographical sketches of the "Daughters of America" published several years ago says of Susan B. Anthony, "She deserves the fame she has won as a reformer and her pure life and earnest words for temperance, liberty and human rights will command the respect of future generations when all strife and controversy concerning 'woman's right' shall have passed away."

However this may be it is certain that the just meed of honest, earnest, unflinching endeavor belongs to this woman, who has dared for more than a generation to advocate an unpopular cause openly and with a persistent courage and a sublime faith in its ultimate triumph that has silenced all but the most ungenerous criticism.

A PAUPER PATRIOT'S EMOLUMENT.

The underpaid member of congress—he whose salary is wholly insufficient to meet expenses incurred in laboring for the interests of his constituency comes to the front this session in the person of Representative Peters of a Kansas district. He exploits his poverty most pathetically and poses as a pauper patriot—with evident intent to do full justice to the role assumed. In doing this he lists his necessary expenses as follows: For a stenographer to write his letters and send seeds to his constituents, $100 a month; for carriages, hansoms and hordes to carry him on errands, $40 a month; for a man to loaf after his constituents' land office cases $60 a month for Kansas newspapers—most astonishing item—$30 a month; for incidental expenses including loans to impecunious constituents, $50 a month. In short, leaving the vulgar reasons of stenography for the more generous one of summary, Mr. Peters declares that his legitimate expenses aggregate a monthly total of $450, which is somewhat in excess of his salary.

Now it would be a hard hearted person who would not sympathize with Representative Peters on this financial showing, while the critic would be most cruel who would inquire, with lifted eyebrows, and significant shrug what obligation official or moral compels him to employ other persons to attend to his correspondence, to supply his admiring constituents with seeds, to attend to land office business, to ride about the city on a multitude of errands and to loan money without full security, and with no expectation that it will be paid?

Some representatives have to do these things, we are told, in order that they may retain their seats in the house; some incur personal and political obligations in order to get there, that they must discharge or be constantly hounded by disagreeable reminders of the same. When such a state of affairs as this exists, the best thing that a man can do is to pay out his salary on demand as secretly and as ungrudgingly as possible, contenting himself with having achieved the glory of a seat in the national congress at this price. He only makes a damaging expose of himself by putting in a plea for more money and itemizing his expenses in support of it. He will certainly not convince the public that it is necessary to sound the depths of his pocket to his extent, in order to perform the legitimate duties of his office, and the verdict of honest opinion in the premises will be that if he has not the ability to keep his seat without hypothecating his salary to the politica bloodsuckers of his party he had better fling away ambition and content himself to

A VALUE SET UPON A DEAD INDIAN.

Fresh evidence that the Indian mind is being attuned to the metallic melody of civilization is found in a recent settlement with the Navajo tribe in New Mexico for the killing of one of their braves by a white man. While yet the Indian race was untouched by the wand of progress payment in kind was commanded by the Indians for the loss of one of their number by the bullet of the ruthless paleface, and following out the sentiment of Indian ethics, the leading principle of which was: "If you cannot catch the right one catch any" the tribe that had suffered a loss of this kind cooped relentlessly upon the trail of the white man until the demand of blood for blood was fully satisfied. In the case in question, however, we find the war cloud dispelled by the payment of $200 in the lawful coin of the United States to the Navajos for the loss of their comrade.

It is a fact that is borne out by ample evidence that the reckless squatter, or lawless cowboy of the great plains places very little value upon the life of an Indian. Their peculiar mode of life, which is one of irresponsibility and daring, together with the undeniable worthlessness of the average Indian, from any standpoint of thrift and industry contributes to this estimate of the value of his life. It seems impossible to check the spirit of wantonness that impels the lawless habitat of the border to draw his derringer or lift his Winchester to his shoulder when an unruly Indian crosses his path, and the reckless killing of Indians seems likely to go on, to a greater or less extent, as long as the targets for the pistol practice of the frontiersman hold out. Now that the Navajo seems to be reconciled to his condition of things, providing a price is paid for the life of the luckless warrior, we may hope to see an end, so far as this tribe is concerned, to the cruel outbreaks which almost from the time of the landing of the Pilgrim fathers, have followed the shooting of an Indian by a white man.

Nor is there any cause for complaint at the price asked for a dead Indian as established by this precedent. While it is not at all likely that the Indian was worth $200 to himself or his tribe one could be driven that a less sum be fixed upon his life, under all the circumstances. It has been suggested that the vicissitudes that have been forced upon him cause the Navajo to regard life as a lottery and that each one of the few hundred of that tribe who survive hopes that he may outlive all of his brethren, and posing as the "last of the Navajos," may inherit the riches that will have accumulated through the pay system by the extinction of his tribe.

It cannot be claimed for this mode of settling for a dead Indian that it embodies the principles of Christianity or justice, but these elements have been counted out of our dealings as a people with the red man for so long that they will not be missed in this connection. The plan, is to say the least a cheap one and if it does not mete out proper punishment to offenders it protects the innocent from the savage reprisal that Indians have been wont to levy upon the homes of settlers in revenge for the killing of a comrade by the white ruffians of the border.

News from the Old World is of a most startling character. Ex King Milan, of servia, has recovered sufficiently from the gout and his last attack of jim jams to flirt with a dowager at a mardigras festival and address her as "Dolly dear," and the princess of Wales has patted and petted Barnum's trick collie while her daughter, the duchess of Fife, fed him candy. There is also something about the possibility of a socialist uprising in Germany and the early retirement of Prince Bismarck is limited at white the prospect for election and labor riots in that empire is good. However, trifles like these last do not count while the waiting world drinks in the full importance of the first.

A little more substance is given to the doubtful story of the lease or purchase of the Baltimore & Ohio by the Northern Pacific by the semi official announcement of the New York Times. The Times however, does not say that the deal is completed, only that Villard has command of money enough to make it. It is natural enough that the Northern Pacific should endeavor to acquire a line to the Atlantic seaboard, and the Baltimore & Ohio has been a lame duck since Robert Garrett inherited and proceeded to wreck it. Still, it will do to wait for confirmation before believing the story. The other story that Villard has sold several million dollars' worth of Washington timber lands to C. P. Huntington hangs together well with the rumor of a Baltimore & Ohio deal. It furnishes part of an answer to the natural question as to where the money came from, whether actual or premature. This movement is in the direction of the natural destiny of American railroads, which is amalgamat on of connecting routes between the two oceans under a single management. The Union Pacific has already realized this destiny and all its competitors are working in the same direction.

The gains of the socialist party in the German elections exceed even the expectations created by the events in the reichstag and the extraordinary electioneering policy of the emperor. The socialist vote has been doubled in the cities heard from, and in Berlin two socialist candidates are elected, and a second ballot is necessary for Virchow's seat. Hasenclever, who belongs to the progressist wing most in sympathy with socialism both fall below the socialist candidates on the poll. It seems that the socialist gains everywhere have been as much at the expense of the constitutional liberals as of the imperial party, the Catholics holding their own as usual. Just how parties will stand in the next parliament does not yet appear, nor does it matter much. The main effect of the election is moral, as the government of Germany is not parliamentary in the sense of being responsible to a majority of parliament. Defeat in the elections does not turn out a ministry as in constitutional monarchies on the British model. Indeed Bismarck has ruled the empire with only a minority behind him though most of his stormy career.

Fire broke out in the Catholic orphan asylum on Fifth avenue, New York, opposite the Vanderbilt mansion, last Saturday. There were 614 boys in the building at the time, ranging in age from 6 to 13 years, and they were marched out in perfect order by the sisters in charge, not even knowing why the alarm bell that called them out was sounded until they were halted in the broad courtyard in the rear of the building and the danger of the fire engines running up the avenue was heard. It is impossible that discipline of this kind will not exercise a beneficial influence upon these boys. It has in it the elements of promptness and obedience, without which the proper training of boys for the active responsible duties of life is impossible.

The annual report of President Blackstone, of the Chicago & Alton road, incorporating the outline of a plan for government purchase of the railroads of the country is a very interesting and significant thing. Mr. Blackstone is one of the most sagacious and far-seeing railroad men in the United States. His attitude will confirm the impression quite general among thorough students of this subject that the railroads are quite as ready to be bought as the government is to buy them. Indeed, such a transfer of ownership on any terms which recognized the rights of private property would be a better thing for the corporations than for any body else.

It is to be hoped that there is no truth in the story from Washington that the committee on ways and means proposes to recommend the suspension of sinking fund purchases in order to balance the tariff reductions. The policy of steady reduction of the national debt through the sinking fund has been pursued ever since the war and its abandonment would have to be justified by strong reasons to meet public approval. If the appropriations are to be kept within the department estimates, the necessity for it does not appear. It is possible the story is put in circulation by some one on the committee who wants to lay a foundation for a revolt against revenue reduction.

Returning birthdays tell the story that Mme. Adelina Patti Nicolini wrestles in vain with the aid of cosmetics to suppress. The return of February 19 was celebrated by a banquet given to a few of her select friends in San Francisco whereupon the inquisitive scribe hied him to the encyclopedia and discovered that the prima donna was born at Madrid, Spain on the 19th of February, 1843. The place, month and day of her nativity matter little but the year legitimatizes the wrinkles other brow and the crow's feet about her eyes and points to the fact that the sweet singer will soon be an old woman.

We have it on the authority of Ross Jackson, president of the Occidental club San Francisco that the fight between Dempsey and McCarthy was a "fine exhibition." The public would judge as much from the reports telegraphed over the country of the vicious thrusts of the two men and the staggering condition and gory appearance of the vanquished as he was dragged from the ring amid the cheers and hootings of the crowd.

It really seems as if the elements would not weary of rioting in California during this entire season. Snow follows flood and flood snow with a promptness and persistence that is the despair of railroad managers. There is consolation in the fact that the year is verging closely upon March and that this mischief must soon cease, or the calendar be falsified.

A pamphlet containing a sketch of the life and work of Rev. Dr. Atkinson, with tributes to his memory from many sources, is published. It is a testimonial such as few men at the end of their earthly careers are entitled to receive, and yet it could be extended to vastly greater length without exhausting the rich fruits and lessons of Dr. Atkinson's life.

The German government has been rudely shaken up by the elections but still it is not probable that Herr Most will be recalled and asked to accept the German throne.

PERSONS WORTH KNOWING ABOUT.

Senator Hearst of California is said to talk less and to listen most of all the members of the senate. These are rare accomplishments in a states man.

Editor Halstead of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette has been engaged to write every month for the Cosmopolitan magazine a column of strictly non partisan comment upon important public events.

Ex Minister Foster will be the foreign debt of Mexico now aggregates about $130 000 000. He estimates the amount of American capital invested in Mexican railways, mining and other enterprises at $100 000 000.

Mrs. Mary Schenley of Pittsburg, who recently gave lands to that city valued at $500 000 for public park purposes has supplemented this gift with another twelve acres worth $100 000 as a site for the Western Pennsylvania Blind Asylum. Mrs. Schenley is the widow of an English army officer.

The Empress Augusta at the age of 87 once figured in the uniform of a lieutenant of artillery in the streets of Berlin. When her husband was about to leave for England during the riots of 1848 she brought some very valuable documents from the Prussian royal palace, clothed in the manner described above. This was on the 19th of March, and on exactly the same day her disguise that no one recognized her.

Prince Mishimay a wealthy and honored Japanese gentlemen who is visiting this country, thinks America has less religion than any other civilized country. He says he has traveled all over the United States and has been entertained by public committees and private citizens in all the leading cities. "They have shown me magnificent state houses, and theaters and libraries, and private residences. They have set before me the richest food and the rarest wines. They have introduced me at magnificent balls, entertained me in sumptuous yachts, and whirled me through beautiful valleys on four-in-hands. And yet no one wishing to show me the glories of his city has ever asked me to visit his church. Your American ideas explain your triumphs of architecture science society and commerce, but seem to think that your religion is not worth exhibiting."

An amateur artist of the gentler sex sent, as a birthday present, to William E. Gladstone a pretty sketch of the G. O. M. sitting on the log of a tree which he had just felled, with Ariel clothed as a female sprite, hovering over him. Mr. Gladstone sent the following acknowledgements. "Dear Madame—Many thanks for your most pleasing drawing. I had always considered Ariel as masculine, but probably you are right. etc."

Local Person I Mention.

Mr. Alf. Hayman representing the Hanan Shoe company, has arrived on the steamer Oregon.

Mr. W. S. Kaley superintendent of construction for the Pacific Postal Telegraph Company, with residence at San Francisco is in the city, looking after the company's interests. The wires that are now working with the Bay cities were only placed in temporary working order on account of the blue ice on his way home. Mr. Kaley will put the line in a more substantial condition.

SPIRIT OF THE NORTHWEST PRESS.

AND ONDA Leader: This week will bring the legislature to a close. It must be a Thursday, and this death will not be willfully dumbered. Its organizing was those of organization. For weeks it had an idleness about it as one of the sights of candidates for the federal senatorship whose personal ambitions drew the two rival houses widely apart. It has been an assemblage of incidents which whose leadership was sadly lacking. Issues became distracted under the crazy wing directed by Sanders the joint resolution and the audacity to strike the west side and hold Seattle to use an expression of derivation for that purpose. The democratic lower house tried to make some big turn up but couldn't, the republicans at last established control kept its eye on the pay roll by unanimous consent, and shut on several occasions to take the hood and flit out of the Australian election law. It has been a rank combination.

THAT SMILE HAS DISAPPEARED.

Helena Journal: The happy, rosy smile with which the democrats greeted the announcement that fines had been imposed upon the fleeing senators, has disappeared. In its appearance it said and melancholy frown. It has been discovered that the majority have a constitutional right to flee the jurisdiction. To fight them in the courts only, which are republican and therefore have an ugly aspect that drives the blood from their cheeks. To fight them out of the courts can only be done by the permanent exit of the senators, or by a curtailment in the senatorial body, as proposed them. There is a lot of sackcloth and ashes ahead for eight men in Montana.

STOCK RAISER'S FALSE ECONOMY.

Eugene Register: The low price for cattle which has prevailed for several years has been rather discouraging to stock men, and it has led many into the practice of economy in management, which will be demonstrated in many cases by next will it far exceed the cost of more prudent methods. In the early winter of ordinary winter is such that a healthy animal will go along well if left to take care of itself, but occasionally there is a marked exception to this rule, which requires the necessity of making provision for at least a month's supply of feed for stock in order to bring it through the winter in good shape.

LET CONGRESS TREMBLE.

Tacoma Globe: Congress will make a huge mistake if it refuses the necessary federal buildings to Washington. A last lavish appropriation of public money given each year to the sinking fund and middle states, and type whose Washington steps into the Union and asks for a recognition, besing some proportion to her present wants, not to say her glorious prospects, she is treated with a promptness parsimony. The last lashing was of New England can get millions to repay, but Washington which in wealth and resources surpasses them all combined gets a single million to supply offices needed to carry on the necessary business of the government.

THE ASYLUM IS ALL RIGHT.

Albany Democrat: The Salem Journal's big head lines about the insane asylum should be taken by their congressmen the grand jury "investigated the asylum, and they found the institution as represented to be in excellent condition and happy as the inmates of so large a collection of people to be found anywhere in the country." Grand jury reports of this kind are not worth the paper they are printed on. They are simply recommended that the food of the employes and inmates be as nearly alike in quality as possible so there was a ring of truth for nothing.

CANNOT FOOL THE MASSES.

Astoria Pioneer: Henry George says "I am a free trader because I am a free trader." That is about as sound logic as the gentleman is capable of using. We have just as much use for free trade in this country as we have for a number of candidates for the federal senatorship whose personal ambitions drew the two rival houses widely apart. To fight them out of the courts can only be done by the permanent exit of the senators, or by a curtailment in the senatorial body, as proposed them. There is a lot of sackcloth and ashes ahead for eight men in Montana.

Difficulty of Reducing the Tariff When Appropriations Are Swelling—The Florida Assassination—Blair's Speech Ended.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[OREGONIAN office, corner Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.] Representative Burrows of Michigan, is acting chairman of the committee on ways and means, in the absence of Chairman McKinley, and is keeping the committee hard at work night and day on the preparation of the tariff bill. March 1 was the day set for reporting that bill to the house but if it gets in by April 1 it will be a success. I said to-day that a majority of the committee were still undecided to recommend a separation of the sinking fund act, in order to have some relief for tariff reductions. The republican members of the committee say that it will be necessary, as an actual result, to have almost as much as the surplus as liable for the sinking fund will be in the neighborhood of forty millions each year.

The proposition to put sugar on the free list seems to be losing ground in the committee, chiefly for the reason that the latest information on the subject of the finance committee of the treasury will not permit the loss of such a large amount of revenue. If the duties of putting sugar on the free list is ordered, it is probable that a cut of about 30 per cent will be made on the duty on sugar, both raw and refined. It is understood that the subcommittee of the ways and means committee, which is preparing the tariff schedule for sugar, will report in favor of a fair duty upon barley, eggs, melons, poultry and nearly all farm products upon which no tariff is now imported, and that on horses the duty will be increased to 40 per cent. It is said that the duty on Sumatra leaf tobacco will be increased to $2.

The Western members of congress have been before the postoffice department officials many times since their arrival in Washington, urging that something be done toward giving the several offices adequate clerk hire in each instance they are met with the statement that allowances are made upon the report of the postmaster for the last four quarters, and the department cannot do anything further. Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson, in speaking of this feature the other day, said: "The fault lies with congress. Here is a vast department, one in which the people give more freely and feel interested than any other branch of the government, and yet we are not provided with no contingent fund to meet occasions of rapid growth. It is impossible to convince Eastern people that a city of 9000 or 5,000 can spring up in a year, or that a town can be liable to a demand on the postoffice in a year. They fail to appreciate the fact that cities like Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane Falls in Washington, Helena and other cities in Montana, and a dozen growing cities in Oregon demand an immediate increase in clerk and other expenses in postoffices. It is beyond their comprehension and we are tied. Representatives Wilson Gates and Herman and the senators of these states are frequently here, urging that increased allowances be made, but we can do nothing. The postmasters and the people of the country will find out when they don't get it they do—the government. Some provision should be made for these cases which are extraordinary in Eastern people, but are seen in every day life by the people of the West." General Clarkson's advice to those who come to him is to try and get a contingent fund for the postoffice department provided and let the department meet these cases as fast as they occur.

Representative Hermann has had some lively times with postoffice officials during the past few days he is referred to what he represents as the wretched condition of mail routes in the southern portion of his state. He submitted various telegrams from postmasters and others in Douglas, Coos, Jackson and Josephine counties, all complaining that for four weeks they had been shut off from mail communication. In the first two counties it is asserted that while trains and express are coming through by rail from San Francisco, yet mail matter piled up in California and Portland. Any foreman charges the department with delaying people and to prove it means for transfers where needed, but it asserts that has been done that was possible, in view of the broken roads. However, telegrams have been freely exchanged during the day and from the assistant superintendent of the San Francisco and various offices, as a result of the waking up of this end of the line, as well as at the other. The Coos county postmasters complain that for one month they have been entirely cut off from the interior. They complain that the Coos bay road is in many places impassable even for a mail sled. Mr. Hermann to-day sent the following telegraph operator to an important point, and thoroughly versed from Tacoma and Empire City and, Mare field via Camas valley and Coquille City, and all delayed mails at Roseburg on the southern Pacific railroad in Oregon, will go forward at once by the service.

Senator Dolph and Representative Hermann were greatly surprised yesterday when the nomination of John S. Lewis for register of The Dalles landoffice was sent in. Senator Mitchell was not here and it is probable that he knows no more about the case than his fellow members. But few of the others know that the nomination was under consideration. Senator Dolph called on Secretary Noble to find who had recommended Lewis and why he was appointed, but the secretary was absent. McDonald, whom Lewis will succeed has resigned, otherwise his time would not have expired until July 1. The Oregon delegation had not considered the matter, and it is generally supposed the appointment was an advertising one. The appointment embarrasses the delegation, as Mr. Lewis is a man well qualified for the place, and unless the president withdraws his name it will disappoint some applicants who have understood that they were to be considered. Senator Dolph could not learn of any interest the president or postoffice had in making the appointment. It is believed Lewis may be withdrawn. If not there may be some doubt as to his confirmation.

Senator Sawyer introduced a bill to-day to amend certain sections of the revised statutes relating to lotteries. It provides that no letter or circular concerning the advertisements of lotteries or so-called gift enterprises for distributing money by chance and intended to deceive the public will be sent through the mails. Any person found guilty of using the mails for this purpose shall be fined not less than $100, nor more than $500. The postmaster general may also, upon finding any person engaged in this business, instruct the postmaster at the town to which registered letters are sent in answer to such advertisements to return them to the persons who mailed them with the word, fraudulent, stamped on outside.

The four Montana would be senators are getting some what uneasy over the long wait. Between the sittings members of the committee are consulting the briefs and testimony furnished. A republican senator who has been giving some attention to the matter, said that there was nothing for the senate to do but admit Sanders and Powers. Col. Broadwater and Marcus Daly, two of the big democrats of Montana, have retained counsel. They claim that this action has nothing whatever to do with the election case and does not indicate that they have weakened. Daly never was enthusiastic in the case, and Colonel Broadwater's departure may mean that he has given up. Sam Hauser since his stay here, has not done much to keep up the hope of the democrats. He would prefer, it is claimed, that all should be rejected.

The leakings from the senate executive session have exasperated Senator Dolph to such an extent that he yesterday moved the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter and find out where the news agents get their reports. The action of various senators in executive session have been so often reported that some of them would not discuss such things did he public save for an occasional one considered.

Rep esentative Wilson will to-morrow leave for Hartford, Conn., with other members of congress to participate in the celebration of Washington's birthday. It is expected that he will look for the seat of Washington.

Senator Squire has been ill and unable to be at the capitol this week.

The many pending measures as unfinished business have prevented the consideration of several new state measures that are all ready to be passed as soon as there is an opportunity.

Senator Dolph visited the chief of engineers of the war department to-day with a request from the Board of Trade of Corvallis, asking that something be immediately done concerning the work on the Willamette river to prevent the river from leaving its bed entirely and cutting a new channel. At the senator's instance General Casey telegraphed the local engineer to make an immediate examination and report.

Consideration of the Taylor-Torrey bankruptcy bill was completed by the house committee on judiciary this morning, and the chairman was authorized to report it favorably to the house. Culberson, of Texas, received permission to report as a minority measure the bankruptcy bill introduced by him.

W. H. Taylor, of Spokane Falls, is in the city. He is a prominent business man of that city, and expects to present some facts to the public buildings committee, showing why a large appropriation should be given to Spokane Falls for a public building.

IN THE HOUSE.

World's Fair Arguments for New York, Chicago, Washington and St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—By special order to-day was set apart by the house for debate on the report of the committee on the world's fair. The galleries were well filled with spectators. The usual preliminary routine business was transacted with a show of impatience.

A message from the president was read relative to the Chilean and Wahpeton Indian agreement.

Merrill of Kansas presented the conference report on the senate bill to increase the pension of helpless soldiers. The agreement makes the proposed increase take effect from the date of the passage of the bill or the issue of the pensioner's certificate. Merrill explained that the bill involved an expenditure of $450 000 or $450 000 accepted.

Candler of Massachusetts explained how the time is to be divided in the world's fair debate—one hour to the chairman himself and one hour to each four of the contending cities. To-morrow the opponents of any bill are to have one hour and the remainder of the day divided between representatives of the four cities. Mills of Texas demanded half the time in behalf of opponents of the bills. Candler offered to give the opposition two hours, but Mills did not think this a fair division.

The speaker said the question was two-fold. First, as to whether the bill should be held, second at what point. The chair thought the debate should be so arranged as to give full information to the house upon the point it desired to explain.

Candler took the floor and opened the debate. He proceeded in an impartial way to explain the provisions of the two bills. One was in order to use in case he fair should go to New York, Chicago or St. Louis and provided for an appropriation by the government of $1 500 000 to make its own exhibit. The other is drawn for Washington. If held here the money would be raised by the district government by the issue of bonds.

THE CASE FOR NEW YORK.

Flower of New York followed in behalf of New York city. He believed the selection of New York meant the greatest possible success to the undertaking. New York would assume the financial responsibility and make the fair a success. A site was ready for one, containing 800 acres. No other city had met this question of a site and solved it. New York is the half way station between the greater part of this country and the world. The American manufacturer and agriculturist would have greater inducements to exhibit his wares and products in New York city than any other, by reason of the fact that it has larger local assemblage to be instructed and benefited and by reason of the further fact that his goods would be thrown into comparison with the wares and products in the great commercial exchange of the continent. Therefore, with a guaranty on the part of New York of pecuniary success, with its dense population, its many points of interest, ample accommodations for visitors and beautiful are in lands, New York was better prepared than any other city. He asked if the house was prepared to vote from the treasury $4,000 000 or $10,000 000 because of the fair at Chicago St. Louis or Washington when it could locate it in New York without any appropriation except for government exhibits. In conclusion, Flower announced that he had just received a telegram to the effect that Governor Hill had signed the fair bill. Flower was followed by Moore of New Hampshire and Covert, Cummings, Tracy and Quinn, of New York, in favor of New York.

THE CASE FOR CHICAGO.

Hitt then opened the debate for Chicago. He said that Chicago surpassed any other place in facilities for travel and ability to care for people. The hotels were on an enormous scale and had never been overcrowded. The city was accessible to the mining regions of Pennsylvania and the great agricultural belts of the West. Commerce was carried on there on the grandest scale by land and water. Chicago was the second in size among American cities. The site at Chicago was already. The lands were level and no preparation was required. It would leave a great sum empty in the treasury after New York had blasted away enough rocks to afford suites. In regard to the inducements to the world's fair to be held in the interior, the fair would be visited by many more people than if placed at tidewater. The people of Chicago were enthusiastic, they were not bickering among themselves. What proportion of the attendance at the fair would be compared of foreign visitors? Perhaps 150,000 at the most. He expected 15,000 000 Americans to attend the fair. Would it be proper to require 2 50 000 people to travel to the extreme edge of the country, as they would have to do if the fair was held at New York?

Adams, of Illinois said the people of Chicago were tinged, business men and capitalists, all agreed in asking congress to grant the great celebration of 1892 to be held in their city. They were prepared to meet the responsibility. The world knew they have a habit of succeeding in what they undertook. Chicago had many advantages as to location. Chicago could guarantee the financial success of the undertaking. They had raised $5 000 000 by voluntary subscription, and were about to raise 5 000 000 more by the issue of bonds. Another guaranty was that the subscription fund, with all came in only from Chicago came also from the outside. Nearly every state in the Union was represented.

McCreary, of Kentucky, earnestly argued in favor of Chicago saying the three greatest national celebrations ever held in this country had been held in the east, and that it was now the turn of the West. He urged that the fair should not be held on the rim of the country, but in the center.

Catcheon of Michigan spoke warmly in favor of Chicago, which he said was the most marvelous city the world had ever looked upon.

Tay'or of Illinois said there was a great country in the far west, of which the people of New York knew little, and he desired the fair in the west to educate the people of New York. He concluded by telling of the wealth of the country surrounding Chicago and the patronage which could be expected to be bestowed upon a fair held there.

Perkins of Kansas said Chicago was the proper place for the fair. If this was to be a European fair let us go to London. [Applause.] If it was to be for the benefit of the patriotic citizens of this country it should go to the great interior city, a representative of the great industries of the country and hold there the exposition that would be an honor to the country.

Lawler of Illinois said he held a petition signed by thousands of workingmen of every city in the Union except New York asking that the exposition be located at Chicago. He detailed her advantages.

Chairman of Michigan followed in a glowing tribute to Chicago, the present metropolis of the West and the future metropolis of the whole country.

THE CASE FOR ST. LOUIS.

Frank of Missouri opened the battle for St. Louis. The site for the fair, he said was to be chosen upon sound reasons. Chicago vies with New York in political animus supplemented by sordid mercenary aims. St. Louis offered advantages of location, and was accessible to the greatest number of citizens of the United States and Southern republics. St. Louis hospitality was known the world over, her climate was excellent and she would bid the world welcome to a nursery of virtue—not a morass of vice.

Hiedrii chaus of Missouri extolled the talents of the business men of St. Louis. He said they had been able to start and carry on a business that had not an equal in the world. The people of St. Louis knew how to hold a fair and make it a success.

Stone of Missouri enlarged upon the advantages of the geographical position of St. Louis, of the mineral wealth of the surrounding country, its cereal products and great internal commerce.

Breckenridge of Arkansas followed in the same line.

Hockery of Missouri spoke in complimentary terms of the other competing cities, but dismissed New York and Chicago on account of location and Washington for finance and reasons.

Caruth of Kentucky closed for St. Louis.

THE CASE FOR WASHINGTON.

McComas of Maryland was for an exposition, wherever it was to be held but it was his to really fitting that the exposition should be held here in Washington, in the district bearing the name of the discoverer of the continent. He appealed to the friends of Chicago, New York and St. Louis to come together in peace here on national grounds.

THE HARBOR SHOALS.

...ttle Compels a Change of the Tide Lands Bill.

OCCUPANTS HAVE FIRST RIGHT

The Great Northern Will Build a Deep Harbor Provided It Has Own It—Two Adjournment Resolutions Beaten.

OLYMPIA, Feb. 20.—[Special Telegram.]—A committee has been effected upon the tide lands question. Last night there was a meeting of representatives of upland owners and squatters on tide lands who have built permanent improvements thereon, and it was decided to favor the compromise bill with an amendment similar to the one added to Clark's bill, giving the owner of upland to which a tide land is appurtenant a prior pre-emptive right of purchase where an upland owner has permitted the occupant to build improvements of a substantial character. It was decided to consider his silence as acquiescence, and in such cases the upland owner has forfeited his pre-emptive right of purchase. This is satisfactory to the Seattle members. This is vigorously protested against the passage of the Senate committee's bill. None of the bills now pending recognize the rights of squatters who have title to tide lands because they have driven the owners off, nor does the legislature seem disposed to give them a chance.

The House did not take up the tide lands bill today. Everybody was cooked and primed for the fight. A big lobby arrived from Seattle this morning. Among them were Mayor Moran, Hon. Ang. McMichael, president of the Merchants' National bank, Isaac Dodson, president of the Commercial bank, Company, County Auditor Forrest and others. When the hour set for consideration of the bill arrived, Herren moved to defer consideration until next Wednesday. Allen, Hanley and Eddy opposed the motion, and Reed favored it. Herren's motion prevailed—yeas 57, nays 39.

Hanley afterward introduced a new bill as a substitute for all the tide land bills now pending. The bill creates a public land commission consisting of the secretary of state, state land commissioner and state auditor, who are also made a board of equalization. Shore lands are divided into three classes, as follows:

First—Lands contiguous to incorporated cities which have been platted and which contain valuable improvements.

Second—Lands similarly situated which have been platted but which do not contain valuable improvements.

Third—All other shore lands.

Valuable improvements are defined as wharves, docks, etc. The reputed owner of lands of the first class is given prior right of purchase at the appraised value. Lands of the second class are to be sold at auction on the first Monday in February, May, August and November. The commissioner of public lands must have lands of the second class laid out as contiguous to incorporated cities as valuable improvements on such lands and must have the same prior right of purchase as the owner of lands of the first class. Shore lands, not contiguous to cities on which there are wharves, docks and booms, shall be appraised by the acre, and the reputed owner shall have prior right of purchase. All lands to which prior right of purchase is given, must be purchased within three years, if not they fall into class 2, and shall be subject to sale at public auction. Applications to purchase must be filed with the state land commissioner. One-fourth cash must be paid, and four years are given to pay the residue. It is made the duty of county commissioners to propose plats of lands of the first and second classes and all shore lands not within two miles of a city on which there are sawmills. An appeal may be taken by filing notice within twenty days with the state land commissioner, whose decision as to the value of land shall be final. Appeals on questions of law and in regard to prior rights of purchase may be taken to the supreme court.

The Power medical bill was sent to Governor Ferry to-day. One of the governor's most serious objections to the bill has been removed. The bill provides for the appointment of a board of examiners from the regular physicians of the state. The word "regular" is what has puzzled the governor. He has just accepted the Webster definition, that the term applies to all thoroughly qualified practicing physicians, and that it is applicable to the homeopathic, eclectic, hydropathic and all other schools, as well as the allopathic school. For a time he was inclined to think that custom and usage had made the term ...minently an allopathic term. These are not the principal objections of the governor. It is ...tended that he is doing some hard thinking as the section specifying the powers of the board in determining what shall constitute unprofessional conduct.

The King county delegation held a meeting tonight to hear what D. H. Gilman, president of the Alki...n Bay Railway and Development Co, had to say in favor of Senator Wood's bill giving the company title to tide lands in Salmon Bay, which is for miles north-west of Seattle, provided the company makes an improvement which will make the bay a deep water harbor. President Gilman gave the delegation to understand that the proposed improvements would cost half a million dollars, and that there was plenty of money behind the scheme.

It is the impression here that the Great Northern Railroad Company is backing up the development company in this enterprise; that the plan is to build a big terminus at Salmon bay, with ore docks, foundries, etc. There is plenty of level land at this point, which is not obtainable at Seattle, for railroad purposes.

The point has been raised by some senators that the senator's bill contemplates class legislation, and a fight will doubtless be made against it on this ground. It is argued by the supporters of the bill that the state has power to make improvements, or to authorize a corporation to make them, in consideration of lands to which the state asserts ownership.

An interesting question has arisen in connection with the creation of the proposed commission to establish harbor lines. It is maintained that if the provisions of article 15 of the constitution are carried out to the letter the harbor line commission will run across the mouth of the Duwamish river and close it to navigation. The Puyallup river, Commencement bay and the Chehalis river at Gray's harbor, will be similarly affected. In order to prevent obstruction of the river it will be said that the lands at the mouth of these rivers are not tide lands and not subject to sale as such, but are the same as lands reserved by the state. This idea, if carried into effect, will be greatly to the advantage of certain claimants of tide lands at Seattle. Several prominent lawyers are trying to solve this new issue.

It is quite probable that Governor Ferry will not have the appointment of the harbor-line commissioners. The leading republicans have about decided to select their commissioners by ballot. It was thought by some that Governor Ferry would protest against this infringement of his constitutional power of appointment. In reply to a question this morning the governor said he had no objection. He thought, according to the constitution, the legislature could create a harbor-line commission and elect it by ballot.

A joint conference committee has been appointed to settle the dispute between the two houses as to whether Pierce county shall have two more judges. The house committee consists of Geoghegan, Grant, Evangs Browne, Judson of Pierce, Patterson and Ratter. It is understood that but one extra judge will be recommended for King, Snohomish and Pierce counties, the judge to be appointed to assist the overworked judge until the census is over.

The house is not so eager for adjournment now as it was a few days ago. Herren offered a resolution to-day fixing March 15 as the date for final adjournment. It was laid on the table by an overwhelming vote. When Kinnear's resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee to suggest amendments to the constitution

J Lynch of Dayton, has been recommended by many senators for the position of warden of the United States penitentiary at McNeil's Island.

Senate Proceedings.

Mrs. Donahue Rapidly Recovering Under Dr. Aborn's Treatment

She Despaired of Hope When She Applied to the Doctor Two Weeks Ago.

Refer to Her at Her Residence, Adjoining Senator Dolph's

PORTLAND OR. Feb 18, 1890

To whom it may concern.

This is to certify that a year ago next March I was taken down with typhoid fever. After I recovered it left me with inflammation of the stomach and bowels with lungs so badly affected that I could scarcely breathe and while breathing I could be heard all over the house struggling to get my breath. I doctored with several doctors with no relief. One learned physician told me that I could not be cured for there was no constitution to build upon. Two weeks ago I was confident that I could not live thirty days longer. I visited Dr Aborn with no expectation of relief. He made an examination of my case and assured me that there was hope. With this consolation I commenced treating with him at once. I found INSTANTANEOUS RELIEF in my breathing by his soothing MEDICATED INHALATIONS and treatment. I have been afflicted with lung trouble for years and two weeks ago prior to visiting Dr Aborn I was convinced that I had more CONSUMPTION. Under his skilled treatment I am FAST RECOVERING. I am constantly GAINING HEALTH and STRENGTH. I have a good appetite and rest well at night, and NOW BREATHE FREE, DEEP and EASY. I can truly say that in Dr Aborn I have found such SPEEDY RELIEF of my suffering that I consider him master of all lung troubles and chronic diseases, and had I not found him my case would have been hopeless and fatal in a few weeks. Very truly and gratefully

[illegible]ESS[illegible]

Reasons Why Port Townsend Is Destined to be a City of Great Importance.

REASON 1: It has the best harbor of Puget Sound, from Cape Flattery to Olympia, having the most convenient anchorage over the greatest area, from 5 to 15 fathoms deep, with the best holding ground. There are no bars, shoals, rocks or hidden dangers of any kind throughout the entire bay, which is land locked and well sheltered from the stormy winds and from the heavy ocean swell.

REASON 2: Ease of approach from the ocean. A sailing vessel can run direct from the ocean to the anchorage in Port Townsend Bay, with a westerly wind, or beat up to her anchorage with an easterly wind, the Straits of Fuca being over 12 miles wide, while above Port Townsend to any of the cities the navigation is more intricate, requiring the constant use of tugs. Steamers can run the distance from the ocean to Port Townsend during the densest fogs by aid of their compass alone, there being no hidden danger to apprehend.

REASON 3: It is the port of entry of Puget Sound, and its geographical position is such that it will afford greater facilities to commerce over a greater extent of country than any one position on Puget Sound.

REASON 4: It is at the entrance to Admiralty Inlet and within the lines of the proposed military works for the defense of Puget Sound, and is where the naval squadron will have a rendezvous and where the government will build a dry dock for repairs, and a naval station for supplies for our naval vessels and the merchant marine.

REASON 5: It will become the great wheat shipping point on the Pacific Coast. It has been ascertained that from the junction of the Snake and Columbia rivers to Port Townsend there is a fall of about 400 feet, and that it is practical y very nearly a level grade and that one engine can haul 25 loaded cars to Port Townsend, while it takes two dead engines to haul 14 loaded cars through the tunnel to Tacoma. The peninsula which lies between Port Townsend and Port Discovery harbors, presents on both these harbors a greater extent of water front than any other position on Puget Sound, both of which can be utilized by one line of railroad, thus offering greater facilities for handling vast quantities of wheat than can be found elsewhere in the whole country.

REASON 6: It will be the headquarters and great point of transit of all the whaling fleet, which can here ship all their oil and bone to Eastern markets and save 700 miles of ocean travel, which they now have to take to transport these products to San Francisco.

REASON 7: It will be the headquarters of the fishing business. The Union Pacific Railroad Co. stated to the senate committee on relations with Canada who were here in 1889, that they intend putting in refrigerator cars to take fresh fish through on the long haul at greatly reduced rates, and will here ship all the salmon pack, as well as other fish products destined for the interior and Eastern markets.

REASON 8: It is the point of departure for all passengers and freight to British Columbia and Alaska, and its unrivaled scenery makes it the admiration of all tourists who have ever visited Puget Sound.

REASON 9: It is the location of the smelting works of Irondale, on Port Townsend Bay, where the best charcoal iron known in the world is produced. A plant will be put up at these works by the company to manufacture steel plates for boilers and for building vessels, steel rails and all iron material required for railroad construction and every kind of iron for blacksmith use.

REASON 10: Port Townsend, by its geographical position, is intimately and directly connected with Portland, being due north, as can be seen on any map. The Willamette meridian, which commences in Portland as its initial point, terminates in Port Townsend bay, between Point Hudson and Marrowstone Point. The Port Townsend Southern railroad will soon connect the two cities, and Port Townsend will become in fact one of Portland's most important shipping points.

REASON 11: Because on the peninsula between Port Townsend and Port Discovery bays will be built within the very near future the most important city on the Pacific Coast, a city that will be fostered and developed by the Union Pacific railroad, which will here have its grand western terminus, from whence will proceed lines of great ocean steamships, which will bring in the commerce of Asia and China and the south seas.

MR. HUNT'S PROPOSAL.

Citizens Asked to Take Two Millions' Worth of Bonds.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE

The Important Proposal Has Been Taken Under Thoughtful Consideration.

A FIERCE GALE ON THE COLUMBIA

Thomas Wells Chilled to Death—Building Committee Organized—The Bids Studied—Handling Mail—The Case of Christiansen.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade was held last evening, President Donald Macleay in the chair and a large number of members present.

President Macleay announced that the object of the meeting was to receive a report from the committee appointed at the last meeting of the board to wait upon Mr. G. W. Hunt and receive a proposition from him in regard to extending his system of railroads to this city.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

The secretary read the following report submitted by the committee:

PORTLAND, Feb. 20.

To the Board of Trade of Portland, Or.: The undersigned, a committee appointed at the last meeting of the Board of Trade to call upon Mr. G. W. Hunt and ascertain upon what terms he would connect his railroads, known as the Hunt system, with Portland, beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee have had several interviews with Mr. Hunt, at some of which they were accompanied by the attorney of the board, Mr. I. N. Deady.

The result is a written proposition from Mr. Hunt, which is herewith submitted for your consideration.

F. K. ARNOLD,
E. J. DEHART,
D. M. DUNN,
Committee.

MR. HUNT'S PROPOSITION.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 18.

To the Board of Trade of Portland, Or.—Gentlemen: On behalf of the Oregon & Washington Territory Railroad Company, I herewith submit the following proposition:

This railroad will be extended from its present Western terminus, Hunt's Junction, to East Portland or Albina, on or before December 15, 1891, and the construction of said extension will be commenced on or before May 1, 1890, upon the condition that the city, or the citizens of Portland, shall forthwith subscribe for and take at par $2,000,000 of the first mortgage bonds of said railroad; the said bonds to bear date January 1, 1890, and bear interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum, interest payable January 1, and July 1 of each year, said bonds to mature on January 1, 1930, and to be a lean upon all road now constructed and to be hereafter constructed by said Oregon & Washington Territory Railroad Company. Said bonds to be taken and paid for immediately upon the completion of each section of ten miles of said extension at the rate of $100,000 of bonds for each ten miles section—construction of said railroad to commence at this end and such sections of ten miles to be counted consecutively from this end eastward to Hunt's Junction, excepting therefrom the crossings of the Willamette and Columbia rivers; that is to say, that such crossings shall not be computed in any ten-mile section, nor shall a failure to bridge either or both of said rivers be deemed a failure to extend said road from Hunt's Junction to Portland. But it is a part of this proposition that said railroad will bridge the Columbia river as soon as permission therefor can be obtained from congress—and such permission will be obtained at the earliest possible practicable date; and the Willamette river, as soon as permission therefor can be obtained from the proper authorities, and that said railroad will be extended into Portland proper (west of the Willamette) as soon as said bridge can lawfully be built; but until permission has been obtained to build said bridge across said Columbia river it may be crossed by a transfer, and it shall not be claimed that said road is not completed because said Columbia river is crossed by a transfer instead of a bridge.

The Hunt system as now completed and in operation consists of 157 miles of standard gauge railroad, owned by the Oregon & Washington Territory Railroad Company, consisting of a road from Hunt's Junction to Pendleton, from Stanton Junction to Centerville, from Hunt's Junction to Dayton, Columbia county, Wash., via Walla Walla and Waitsburgh, and from Eureka Junction to the head of Eureka flat, making in all 467 miles of railroad now constructed and in operation.

C. H. HUNT,
President and General Manager Oregon & Washington Territory Railroad.

THE MATTER DISCUSSED.

On motion the report was adopted, and the committee discharged.

Mr. Burrell asked if the committee had made any recommendation in regard to the taking of the bonds.

Mr. Arnold said they had not considered that they were called upon to make any suggestions in the matter. They had been appointed simply to receive a proposition from Mr. Hunt.

Mr. C. B. Wood said the committee had procured a simple proposition. There must be many details which would need to be inquired into before any one would care to subscribe for stock. The proposition was not for a subsidy, but for a regular investment of money, and he thought further information in detail should be procured. He moved that a committee of fifteen be appointed to carefully investigate the matter and report to the board as soon as practicable.

The motion carried, and President Macleay stated that he would appoint the committee to-day.

POSTAL FACILITIES.

Consent of the meeting having been obtained, Mr. Dunne moved that the secretary be instructed to correspond with neighboring towns and obtain all possible information in regard to lack of postal facilities, to aid the committee appointed to investigate the matter here in making their report. Adjourned.

A WILD GALE ON THE COLUMBIA.

The Lurline, Unable to Reach Her Destination, Is Compelled to Return to Portland.

The steamer Lurline returned to her dock at the foot of Ash street last evening, a few minutes before 5 o'clock, having been unable to make her regular trip to the Cascades.

The steamer left her moorings yesterday morning, as usual, and proceeded well enough until the Columbia was reached. A strong down-stream wind was encountered, which increased in violence as the steamer continued up the river. Shortly after passing Vancouver the wind grew so strong that it was unsafe for a man to attempt to go out on deck. Arriving at a sheltered cove, near a place known as Cottonwood point, about a mile and a half above Washougal, where one could look up the narrowing gorge for some distance, the Lurline took refuge until the storm should subside. Looking up the river a wild scene presented itself. The great body of water was lashed into a seething, roaring fury by the hurricane that rushed down the vast gorge; while the sturdy forests, which cover the sides of the steep, towering mountains that overtop the wide river, moaned dismally as the trees were bent and twisted with the mighty force of the increasing gale.

The steamer lay in shelter for about two hours, when Captain Pillsbury, not wishing a repetition of his experience last summer, when, in a similar gale, not only was the steamer nearly lost, but the lives of those on board were placed in great danger, turned the steamer's bow for home. Stopping at La Camas for the mail, the boat again got under headway at 2:30, and arrived at Portland after a three and a half hour run. The Lurline carried the up-river mail and freight, having aboard but one passenger. She will leave this morning, as usual, with hopes of better success.

FEDERATED TRADES ASSEMBLY.

Various Matters of Importance to the Organization Considered and Acted Upon—Reports—Addresses—Etc.

The last regular meeting of the Federated Trades Assembly was held in Grand Army hall. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Martin Brady, Chris Bomberger, secretary.

J. P. Grimes, presented credentials from the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and Ernest Schroeder, from the Bakers' Union, and the delegates were seated.

Communications were received from the Western Central Labor Union, No. 1, Seattle, and from the Council of Federated Trades of Sacramento, in regard to calling a Pacific coast labor convention; from the Council of Federated Trades of San Francisco, asking for aid in boycotting the street cars manufactured by Hammond & Co., Fremont street, San Francisco; from Central Labor Union, St. Louis, asking assistance in boycotting Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association beer, William J. Lemp's Western brewery beer and eighteen other non-union manufactures.

In the reports from the subordinate unions the Bakers' Union reported that a number of proprietors were taking the same advantage as is taken by the Oregon German Baking Company—discharging union men and substituting non-union men as shareholders. This infringement was referred by the Bakers' Union as a grievance, and was acted on under new business.

The Painters' Union reported progress in an increased membership, which was mainly due to the walking delegate of the Building Trades League.

On motion a committee on legislation, consisting of W. H. Ables, Albert Toxter and A. A. Yartlett were appointed, to report all measures for legislation.

President O'Brien relieved the vice-president, and on motion the chair was instructed to answer all communications having reference to the proposed Pacific coast convention, which has been indorsed by the Portland assembly.

The executive committee were asked to wait on the management of the street car lines to secure their influence to prevail on Hammond to employ union street car builders.

Chris Bomberger, a president of the Carpenters' union, which is affiliated with the Building Trades League, said that all labor organizations were invited by the league to an open meeting and entertainment to be held at Masonic hall on the evening of February 22. The programme will include labor addresses, music and singing.

The president spoke of the address of Richard Deeves, of New York, before the National Builders Association convention, recently held at St. Paul, which was bitter towards trades unions, and pointed out some of his departures from facts, and of his want of strength in the convention, as that body adopted saying by the hour, thereby recognizing the eight-hour workday in the building trades. The party in power in England, he said, will present an eight-hour law to parliament, and the young emperor of Germany, in order to save his French provinces and take in, perhaps, part of Austria, has had to make labor concessions to make it safe to move his army. He thought he could achieve no greater effort than by making the lot of the toiler better.

After several short speeches by Grimes, Tozier, Abbis and Yartlett, the assembly adjourned, to meet the First Tuesday evening in March.

A MAN CHILLED TO DEATH.

The Unfortunate End of Thomas Wells at Rainier Wednesday Night.

Thomas Wells, a carpenter and boat-builder, who resides with his father-in-law, Mr. Winchester, a short distance below Rainier, was found dead yesterday morning under a saloon at that place. He had come up to Rainier in a boat to get some lumber and had been drinking at a saloon there during the afternoon. At evening he borrowed a bucket from the saloonkeeper and started down to the river to bail out his boat. Nothing more was seen of him till yesterday morning when he was found under the saloon with his face in a pool of water dead. It appears while bailing his boat he fell into the river and the marks in the mud showed that he had crawled on his hands and knees to the saloon and under the rear end of it, and the night being cold and his clothing wet he was soon chilled to death. An inquest was held by Justice Deane of St. Helens and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Wells is supposed to have brothers residing east of the mountains. He was married several months since to a daughter of Mr. Winchester with whom he was residing.

THE COMMITTEE ON BUILDING.

The Fifteen Most and Organize—To Commence Work at Once.

The committee of fifteen appointed at the last meeting of the Board of Trade to take steps toward the securing of a site and the erection of a building for the board, met at Ladd & Tilton's bank yesterday afternoon and organized by electing W. B. Ladd chairman, and by appointing the following sub-committees:

Committee on site—D. P. Thompson, Samuel Hollaru, James Flowur, Donald Macleay, Ellis G. Hughes.

Incorporation and by-laws—C. M. Idleman, E. Quackenbush, E. D. McKee, T. F. Osborn, Edward Hughes.

On solicitation—Benjamin Selling, G. A. Mooney, D. D. Oliphant, D. M. Dunne, Herbert Bradley.

All the committees will proceed to business at once, and it is hoped that all the members of the board will not only do all in their power to aid them in their work, but will come to the front in the matter of subscribing to the stock.

HE THINKS IT IS ILL-ADVISED.

What an Old River Man Says About Cutting a Channel on the South Side of Swan Island.

"I have observed that the Board of Trade has memorialized congress to endeavor to secure the opening of a ship channel on the south side of Swan island," said an old river man to a reporter yesterday.

"Yes, they adopted a memorial for that purpose. What do you think of the scheme?"

"As far as I am concerned, I do not approve of it. It was considered by a board of engineers a dozen years ago or more, and they reported adversely to it."

"What are the objections to it?"

"There are several. In the first place it is inadvisable, and impracticable, and would be terribly expensive. A channel three miles long would have to be cut through a deposit filled with snags and drift of all kinds, and if a channel were cut the first flood in the Willamette would probably fill it. The opening of such a channel would shoal the water about the head of the island and would necessitate a vast amount of dredging. The water drawn off would not leave enough to keep the other channel in a serviceable condition, and there would be no good channel at all."

"But did not the board of engineers recommend the opening of the south channel?"

"No. The board recommended that the channel on the south side be closed. Colonel Wilson, who was stationed here, favored cutting a channel on the south side of the island, but his views were never presented officially and were never adopted. The board was in favor of closing the south channel and letting the current wash out the north one, and even went so far. I remember, as to make estimates for the dyke necessary."

"Would there not be a considerable saving of distance by a channel on the south side?"

"No. The difference between the two channels would not be over a quarter of a mile."

"Why, then, does the board desire to have the south channel opened?"

"I have no idea. Probably the matter was introduced in the interest of private parties, without the board fully understanding it. It is well known to all engineers that it is not advisable to meddle with what is called a high water chute. If the river can have a narrow channel for general use and a wide waste way for surplus water and drift wood in flood times it is about the best arrangement that can be secured."

SOME VERY RAPID WORK DONE.

How the Mails Have Been Handled in the Portland Post Office.

The Oregon brought up 173 sacks of mail from San Francisco. As soon as the sacks were delivered at the postoffice, everyone went to work on them with a will, and, in about an hour the mail was ready for delivery, and also the railroad mail was ready for the first outgoing connection.

The fast mail for Washington, that heretofore came here from San Francisco in an "unworked" shape, owing to the small clerical force, arrived on the steamer prepared for immediate transportation, as the number of postal clerks has been increased on the coast route.

The postoffice clerks have cleaned up all the delayed mails, and are endeavoring to feel happy while waiting for another blockade. Since the blockade in California time the postoffice here has three times sent seven fifteen sacks of mail to San Francisco, and each time the same mail has been returned. It arrived for the last time last night on the Oregon. It was first sent belowite be shipped by way of San Francisco to Southern Oregon points, beyond Ashland, but as the trains were blocked in that vicinity, the sacks were returned and again reshipped and returned. They will be held here till the through trains are running.

HE IS UP FOR PERJURY.

The Case of Christiansen Being Examined Before the U. S. Commissioner.

C. Christiansen, a sailor who caused the arrest of Mrs. McCormack, of Astoria, and her runner, Gus Iverson, on a charge of harboring deserting seamen, and who testified that Iverson locked him up in a room of Mrs. McCormack's house and left him under key for two days, preventing him from joining a ship, articles to sail with which he had signed, was up before United States Commissioner Paul R. Dendy yesterday, for examination on a charge of perjury.

The charge was preferred by Mrs. McCormack, who claims that Christiansen testified falsely and maliciously in the matter. It appears that there is no denial of the fact that the sailor was kept at Mrs. McCormack's house for a time, but it seems that he got mixed on his dates, probably from taking his liquor straight. It also gives one a grand idea of the power and majesty of the law to see the energies of lawyers, and the ingenuity of the United States court employed in endeavoring to secure the punishment of this ignorant young lubber of a foreign sailor, all in the interests of justice, and more particularly in the interests of the sailor boardinghouse keepers of Astoria, who would like to hold up Christiansen's case as a warning.

VESSELS AT THE VARIOUS DOCKS.

The Oregon After a Pleasant Trip Again in Port—Other Shipping Notes.

The State of California left the Bay City this morning for Portland.

The English ship Eastcroft is discharging a cargo of brick and curios at the Ainsworth dock.

The steamship Mohzanil is on the ways at the East Portland shipyard, undergoing some necessary repairs, and her hull is receiving a new coat of paint.

The steamer Whitelaw, having finished her contract of laying the telegraph cables, now lies at her old place, like a watchdog, alongside the recently sunken Clan Mackenzie.

The steamer Danube is due at this port this afternoon. She comes from Vancouver, B. C., on her regular trip, and has aboard a fine cargo of general Chinese merchandise.

The bark Cotesworth is discharging at Mersey dock and the ship Noreus is lying at the Portland Flouring Mills down the river. The Mackenzie and Pattendale are still both above the steel bridge.

The steamship Oregon is again in the harbor at Steamship dock after a two months' lay over in the repair docks, re-stored necessary by her collision with the Clan Mackenzie on the morning of December 27. She has been thoroughly renovated since last here, and both inside and out she looks like a new vessel. The badly smashed boat have been neatly and substantially repaired with long strips of heavy steel plating, and being painted a bright red, although contrasting plainly with the coal black of the rest of the hull, it is difficult to distinguish where the big patch has been joined. From the bow she differs slightly from her old self—a fish plate about eighteen inches deep and running back for nearly thirty feet makes the stem much higher. The railings and wire network that follow the outer edges of the upper deck fill they meet at the clamp over the still main shed, a few lengths of rough six-inch boards, serving temporarily as a guard to keep the runway from walking overboard. Before again leaving port, the carpenters will probably finish their work on the ship. The entire hull of the Oregon is also to receive a new coat of paint. Several seamen were busy at work on a swinging platform, heedless of the cold wind, scraping off the cracked, scaly paint, so as to prepare it smooth, with initial surface for the new coat. The ship brought up from San Francisco 173 sacks of mail, a large number of passengers, and an unusually heavy cargo of general merchandise. She leaves again for the Golden Gate Saturday night.

THE THEATERS LAST NIGHT.

"Pearl of Pekin" Draws a Fine House—The Other Theaters Well Patronized.

Louis Harrison, with his humorous talks and his clever comedy, made a decided hit last evening in the Marquam Grand, and the general effect of the brilliant picturesqueness of the scenes which encompassed the operatic burlesque aided greatly to produce a favorable effect.

The "Pearl of Pekin" the remainder of the week.

Sarasate-D'Albert.

The most extraordinary musical attraction of the world, the Sarasate-D'Albert Concert Company, will appear here in two concerts given on the evenings of Monday and Tuesday, February 24 and 25. Without any doubt the greatest musical combination that the world has ever seen was effected when Mr. Henry E. Abbey secured Pablo de Sarasate, the greatest violinist living, and Eugene D'Albert, the pianist of all pianists. At the recent concerts given by these two famous instrumentalists in Chicago the great auditorium was crowded, and at the conclusion of every number the artists were called again and again, and no such wild enthusiasm was manifested at any of the Patti performances. The appearance here of the remarkable musicians will be looked forward to with extraordinary interest, and it goes without saying that the success of the artists here will be nearly a duplicate of what has been observed elsewhere. Sarasate is a bachelor, born in Pamplona, Spain, and is now nearly 46 years of age. He has won the greatest triumphs all over Europe, and is considered the most brilliant violinist since the days of Paganini.

Eugene Francois Charles D'Albert was born at Glasgow, in Scotland, April 10, 1864, and is, therefore, less than 26 years old. The Portland public, however, is better under the artist than the man, and there is no doubt that when he shall have appeared before them they will be led to exclaim, in the language of the Queen of Sheba, concerning Solomon, "that the half had not been told," although it has been claimed that the limit of possibilities in technique had been exhausted until the appearance of D'Albert.

The prices of admission will be the same as for the Emma Juch engagement, and the sale of seats will begin on Friday morning at the Marquam Grand ticket office.

"Shenandoah" next week.

The attraction to be presented at the Marquam Grand for five nights and Saturday matinee, commencing next Wednesday evening, is the one which has added so largely to Mr. Bayman's fortune and made him a marked man-ager in the country. There does not seem to be any doubt at all about "Shenandoah's" great merits. New York grew enthusiastic over it and still does. San Francisco has indorsed it with even greater parade, and Bronson Howard's reputation as a dramatic writer who never does careless or bad work appears to be borne out by his last drama. It is the first of the genuine war dramas, because it deals with incidents that everybody knows, and it treats a stirring story with a delicacy which partisans of both sides fully appreciate. It is not merely a war drama, however. Its comedy is said to be exceptionally bright and original. It will be played by the same cast, scenery and effects as seen at present in San Francisco at the Baldwin theater.

New Park Theater.

Mr. Bandmann repeated his portrayal of Shylock in the "Merchant of Venice" last night at the New Park theater. There is nothing to be added to his work in this play save that it moved more evenly than on the previous evening. The New Park deserves credit for surrounding legitimate plays even though they be not presented upon any very magnificent scale.

Last night closed the season of Mr. Bandmann at New Park. He was under engagement to produce his great play of "Narcisse" for the remainder of the week, but his wardrobe for that play is at Ashland, having been tied up in the blockade. Mr. Bandmann has not been able to get any of his trunks since the blockade, and has concluded to cancel his engagement with Manager Howe, rather than appear at a disadvantage without the necessary costumes for himself and the members of his company.

Cordray's Theater.

"Divorce" was repeated last night, with the same clever caste as before. Miss Essie Tittell was now triumphs each night by her earnest and artistic work. The house was crowded and very liberal in applause.

The Standard.

This popular resort holds its own. Mr. John Cort, proprietor, came down from Seattle to arrange for the first appearance here of the Chicago Comedy Company, a first-class comedy company of sixteen people, which appears at the Standard the week commencing March 3, together with a specialty company of twelve new artists. Manager Cort left for the Sound last night.

A CHANCE FOR BUDDING GENIUS.

A "School" for Actors and Actresses to Be Opened by Manager John Cordray.

A custom long in vogue in the East, whereby budding dramatic genius is given opportunity to find expression, is soon to be inaugurated by Manager Cordray, of Cordray's museum and theater. The custom referred to is that of giving amateur theatricals one day in the week purely by home talent.

These performances are always possessed of an interest peculiarly their own, and they are often the means of developing powers and possibilities in those whose dramatic talents are not latent and unknown quantities. They give those for whom the stage has a peculiar fascination, an opportunity to show their taste and aptitude in public, and to the amateur they open the doors to a professional career. There are always people who imagine they are destined for the stage. They believe themselves to be represented by the true "histrionic fire," and only years for an opportunity to let their lights shine. These, no doubt, will hail amateur theatricals with delight.

Mr. Cordray contemplates giving amateur performances in the manner every Friday evening, the first to be given in a few weeks. Any rarely as dramatic talent develops in any of the would-be actors and actresses they will, no doubt, be admitted into the stock company of the theater.

PORTLAND ROWING ASSOCIATION.

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Evening—One Thousand Dollars Subscribed.

An enthusiastic meeting of the members of this club was held last night in the spacious room of the Alpine club. About forty members were present, and promptly subscribed $1000. The club desire to raise $4000, to replace its property lost in the recent flood.

One-half of this amount will be subscribed by the members, and for the balance it depends upon the generosity of its friends. Much sympathy is expressed by friends, and considerable money has been promised. Committees to canvass for subscriptions, and merchants and friends will be called upon in a few days for their contributions.

Members whose dues are delinquent, are requested to call upon the treasurer and settle. It seems to be the general opinion among members that the new house to be built should be much larger than the old one to accommodate the one hundred and twenty-seven active members.

"LIVELY BOUTS WITH THE MITS."

The entries for the night amateur state championship boxing tournament, which commences to-night at the Mechanics' pavilion, are not only numerous but promise to furnish some clever work between those who are after the championship cups offered to the best and most scientific sparrers of Oregon.

The entries will not close until 6 o'clock to-night, the keeping open of the same being done to give the heavy-weight class a better entry. Though weights have no effect in force, and no less than ten will contest for the honors to-night. The middle-weights, while not so numerous, will make up in quality, three especially viz: Feuney, the fireman; Pennant, Jon Taylor's entry, and Pinch, will send a pretty contest right to will.

The fun commences at 8 o'clock. Ten quarter-my rules and four rounds with regulation sana ear gloves will govern the contests. The preliminary bouts in all classes will be fifteen rounds, and the second rounds and finals will take place Saturday night. Dave Campbell will probably act as referee, and timekeepers for each competition will be on hand.

Reservations on any steamship line in the Atlantic service to Europe and England can be secured at Northern Pacific ticket office, No. 121 First street, corner Washington.

Consumption avoided by checking colds with Kidd's Cough Syrup; at all druggists.

ALONG ON THE EAST BANK.

What the "Oregonian's" Busy Reporters Have Gathered Up.

School Report—Diphtheria Cases—For the Hospital—Crushed by the Blow—Pushing Operations—Back Again—Notes.

The school in Holladay's addition, district 49 is in a prosperous condition and is closing up the year with good results. Following is the report for the past month, prepared by the principal, Professor J. H. Ackerman.

TEACHERS.	Enrolled at Date.	Remaining at Close.	Av. Daily Attendance.	Per cent Attendance Neither Absent or Tardy.
Ackerman	19	17	16.8	84.6	6
Browning	32	28	26.8	93.1	11
Krebs	42	39	34	90.1	10
Donlan	29	27	25.7	90.1	13
Clowens	42	34	31	87.1	9
Packer	37	31	27	75.8	8
Sharkey	16	29	14	85.8	6
Totals	245	217	180.8	85.7	60

Miss Krebs has tendered her resignation, to take effect at the end of the month, which was accepted, and Miss Kelsey, of Portland, was elected to fill the vacancy. The pupils are to have appropriate exercises for Washington's birthday this afternoon at 2:30 P. M., and parents are cordially invited to be present.

Falls with crushing force.

The drowning of C. H. Perkins in the Columbia river is a crushing blow to his young wife and his mother, both of whom are prostrate with grief. His wife has just recovered from sickness, and unprepared to support so great a shock. She slept none the night following the sad event, and the many hands that are administering to her can hardly endure her heart rending moans. Mr. Perkins had just purchased two lots, intending to build a home for his wife and little ones, but this can never be.

The relatives of the unfortunate man offer a reward of $50 for the recovery of his body. An attempt will also be made as soon as possible to drag the river, as it is thought the body might have been caught in some eddy near where the drowning took place, the reward offered will doubtless cause people on both sides to keep a close watch.

The diphtheria cases.

Marshal Morgan reported yesterday there were three patients down with diphtheria at Mr. Mohsh's residence, on Ninth and N street. Mohsh's 6-year-old boy and 17-year-old daughter and his niece, Miss Dent, are the sick ones. The first two are getting along favorably and without relapse will recover. Miss Dent, however, is in a critical condition, and may not recover. The disease is supposed to have been contracted from the family who lived in the house before it was occupied by Mr. Moulsh. Two deaths occurred in that family, and it is now thought from diphtheria. All necessary precautions have been taken to prevent the disease spreading.

Plans for a church.

Plans for a new church on the Woodstock tract are being prepared for the Evangelical denomination. The dimensions have not yet been agreed upon, but the general plan of the ground floor is settled. This shows the auditorium cut off from the lecture room by a sliding door, by which both rooms may quickly and easily be converted into one large room. The building committee will meet in the early part of March and let the contract. The new church and the chapel in Tibbetts addition will be put in charge of a regular pastor at the next meeting of the Evang lical conference.

At home.

Mr. Gus Strube arrived home from San Francisco Wednesday night, but in a rather feeble condition. Gus is one of the old citizens of East Portland, having been in business from an early period, and it would be hard to find an old resident who does not know Gus Strube. He has been for some of the famed health resorts in California, but without receiving any benefit.

The electric line.

A large force of men are employed on the Woodstock & Waverly electric railway. The bridge across the deep depression in our Mr. Kerns's residence is being built and will soon be completed. About all the grading outside the city is finished, and it will not be many days before track laying will be commenced.

For the hospital.

Rev. I. D. Driver delivered a discourse in the Methodist church at Mount Tabor last Sunday, and as a result $24.75 was subscribed towards the Methodist hospital at Sunnyside. This makes $981.73 that has been subscribed by the members of that church for this purpose.

Centenary revival.

About 300 have professed a change of heart during the six weeks' revival meetings at the Centenary M. E. church. Many have joined the church. There will be services this evening.

Miscellaneous notes.

Mr. P. H. Rourk has been hiring men to work on the road to Powell's valley.

City taxes are coming in very freely, and there will be a small delinquent list this year.

A schoolhouse is to be built near the terminus of the Woodstock & Waverly electric railway.

A thirty horsepower boiler was sent out to Woodlawn Wednesday to be used in the P. & V. shops at that point.

Mr. Thomas Tuffner, of Powell's Valley, will leave on an extended trip to Europe the first of March. He will be gone six months a year.

The Colarville mill on Johnson creek is now run by an engine, as the dam was washed out by the high water. Metzger Bros. will put a new dam in as soon as the water will permit.

A mission will be opened at St. Francis church next Sunday, Feb. 23d, by Rev. Father Jacob Hennebery, C. P. P. I. He is said to be an eloquent speaker. He will preach Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. All are invited to be present.

Mr. George Huffington, who was commissioned to take the second census, has been greatly delayed in the work. He had the grippe for three weeks, and now the cold weather interferes. He has been asked more than a hundred times when he would have the census finished, and to all these he has had one reply—"It's too darned cold."

JUSTICE COURT.

Last Monday a man named Edward Case was to have been tried in Justice Eardell's court for assault and battery, but failing to put in an appearance, at the time fixed upon, he forfeited his bail of $10.

The same day George Weaver was tried for assault and battery, and was fined $10 which he paid; but not being satisfied with the decision of the court, he demanded another trial by jury, which was granted, and took place Wednesday. The matter was only made worse, as he was found guilty, as charged, and fined $10 more.

A BIRTHDAY DINNER.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Aid Society will give a Washington dinner February 22, from 5 o'clock in the evening. It has not been stated what would be the particular courses of this dinner, but there is no doubt but a feast will be spread for all to partake of who will invest 25 cents. The proceeds are to be used to help pay street assessments near the church.

Have your dental work done by Dr. Wise, resident dentist, Russell street, Albina, Or.

PASSED AWAY.
